WEYMOUTH BOARD OF SELECTMEN

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

The central problem to face Weymouth in 1970 was the continued acceleration in the cost of operation. Expenditures far out-stripped the growth of our income producing tax base and led to a twenty-five percent increase in the tax rate. Regrettably we anticipate a similar increase in 1971, attributable to a variety of items. In the school system there will be the twelve month impact of staffing the new South High School, and a sixteen room addition to the Seach School. In 1971 also two new elementary schools will be opened with attendant costs for personnel. There will also be the twelve-month impact of salary increases granted in 1970, higher costs, attributable to inflation, of materials purchased by the town, and a further, virtually certain, reduction in state aid.

In spite of these harsh facts, those of us who share responsibility for governing the town hear no clear, strong sentiment toward limiting the extent or reducing the quality of services which the town provides. We are justifiably proud that, in every area; fire, police, schools and public works, — we who live in Weymouth enjoy services equal or superior to those available in neighboring communities. The question remains, however, whether the town can afford all that it does. Constructive suggestions toward a more efficient government, and toward reductions in services are invited and can be assured of sympathetic hearings before the Selectmen or other appropriate body.

It seems too, that each year our general Court passes legislation that imposes mandatory programs upon the town that are costly in their implementation. Residents concerned with our rising tax rate are urged to keep a watchful eye on our state legislature and let their voices be heard on matters of local interest.

One hopeful development this year has been the renewal of major apartment house construction; following the 1969 revision of the zoning and building by-laws. In the judgement of most authorities, quality apartment construction is of economic advantage to the town.

The unrest which prevails among young people everywhere manifested itself in Weymouth in 1970, and culminated in a series of meetings between large groups of young men and women and the Selectmen. They presented their views articulately and we trust they found the Selectmen open-minded, even if not in total agreement. We hope that the present leaders of the youth of the town, and their successors in leadership will follow their expressed intention and pursue their objectives through channels already open to them.

In 1970, by Federal census, our population passed the 55,000 level. Within the life span of signers of this report, we have grown from a small isolated country community of fewer than 20,000 inhabitants, to a major suburban municipality, brought close to Boston with the opening of the South-east Expressway in the 1950's.

Two other milestones deserve to be recorded here. Late in the 19th century, with the coming of the electric street railway, it was possible to consolidate the student body in one location, and the senior high school in the southern end of the town was closed. In 1970, with the opening of the South High School we again have two high schools, to help serve a total school population of nearly 13,000.

In 1970, the town acquired its first boat for the use of the Harbor-master. Previously the individual who held that office furnished their own equipment. Pleasure boating off our shoreline has grown tremendously in recent years, and Commercial activity remains steady.

The Board appreciates the high level of co-operation extended to it throughout the year by other boards, committees, department heads and employees. We also feel especially indebted to that large body of residents, patient and generally silent, and not a part of the official town family, but without whose support as responsible citizens and taxpayers, the town could not function, even for a day.

Respectfully submitted,

J. WARREN HEFFERNAN, Chairman

REPORT OF THE TOWN CLERK

January 21, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town Hall
Weymouth, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

Once again in 1970 the work load in the office increased considerably. Recording of vital statistics (births, Marriages and deaths), issuance of dog licenses, sporting licenses, the annual town meeting and elections, a special town meeting, the State Primary in September and State Election coupled with the general routine work led to an extremely busy year. After twenty years, funds were provided to hire a part time clerk for a period of 7 weeks which aided in relieving the work load of the office.

In 1970, the Town of Weymouth, through the efforts of this office, led the 27 towns and City of Quincy in Norfolk County in the issuance of dog licenses 3,806 in number for a total of $8,748.00.

Once again there was an increase in revenue over the year 1969. The total amount collected in fees for licenses and copies of all types of records was $16,027.43 of which $3,142.08 was returned by the County from dog licenses will be used for schools. The total amount of money handled by this department was $29,441.60. This is an increase of $1,476.75 over 1969. A complete break down will be found in our financial report.

I wish to extend my thanks to the Board and other departments and officials for courtesies tendered to me during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY CHRISTENSEN
Town Clerk

THE MODERATOR: The Chair would like a few moments prior to taking up Article 51.

First of all I would like to express my gratitude and that of the Townspeople and I am sure the Town Meeting Members to Mr. Durgin. This has been his first full meeting as the Secretary of the Appropriation Committee. I am sure you all feel like I do that he has done a very commendable job. (Applause)

All good things I suppose at some time must come to an end. Tom Lindsay, our Chairman of the Appropriation Committee for the last three years, has been a member of the committee for three full terms and is not eligible for reappointment. I am sure that his family will be glad to see him again more often and I want to congratulate him for very level headed management of the Committee and his excellent work and advice to the Moderator as well as the Committee and I am sure very many Department heads. I would like to have Mr. Lindsay stand and take a bow. (Standing applause)

MR. LINDSAY: I just want to say one word. The meeting is practically closed. But I will tell you one thing, we have one heck of a good Town. We have some wonderful people. I want to thank Bill Durgin personally for the wonderful job that he has done. I want to thank Warren Roulston for everything he has done for the Committee over the years, and all of the Department heads that did give us the help that we required and the information that we needed over this period of time to come up with some sensible recommendations to you people, and I want to congratulate you people for making sensible recommendations whether I agree with you or not.

(Applause)

THE MODERATOR: I would also like to have all of the members of the Appropriation Committee who are here to stand and take a bow. (Applause) These men have worked two nights a week, Saturdays from early morning until quite late in the afternoon on many occasions, getting these recommendations together.

I also want to recognize the work of Mr. Wilbur Weeks, the Chairman of the Personnel Board, and the rest of the Personnel Board whom I think have done a strikingly good job for the Town.

Because of the fact that in naming some I am apt to forget others I want to say to all the Boards and Committees of the Town and all the Officers of the Town, we owe them all a great debt of gratitude, as we do to you fine Town Meeting Members who come regularly, and I realize it is a chore. But I particularly thank the heads of the Departments, Town Counsel, Town Accountant, and the members of the Board of Selectmen and other Boards of whom I have to ask questions occasionally prior to Town Meeting so that I can get up here and not be too confused or get you too confused to carry on the business of the meeting.

I thank you one and all on behalf of the Town Meeting and on behalf of the citizens of the Town. You should be very proud, each of you and each of you Town Meeting Members, for your service to the Town, and I thank you again from the bottom of my heart, all of you. (Applause)

ARTICLE 51. (On Petition of George E. Lane and Others). To see if the Town will appoint an Advisory Committee to study and report on rapid transit into Weymouth, to consult with the Metropolitan Transit Authority, to coordinate planning; or take any other action in relation to this matter.

MOVED by the Appropriation Committee:

That the Town Moderator appoint a committee to consist of one (1) member of the Board of Selectmen, one (1) member of the Board of Public Works, one (1) member of the Planning Board and four (4) citizens of the Town to study and report on rapid transit into Weymouth, to consult with the Metropolitan Bay Transit Authority, and to coordinate planning. Said Committee to be known as the Metropolitan Bay Transit Authority Advisory Committee.

MOVED the following substitute motion by Mr. Fryer of the Board of Selectmen:

No action.

Comes now the question on the substitute motion by Mr. Fryer of the Board of Selectmen.

Vote was taken and the Moderator being in doubt ordered a Teller count. Vote and count were taken and the Tellers reported 63 votes in the affirmative and 39 votes in the negative. The Moderator then declared that the substitute motion by Mr. Fryer of the Board of Selectmen was

SO VOTED

Upon motion duly made by the Appropriation Committee, it was UNANIMOUSLY VOTED: That the Adjourned Annual Town Meeting adjourn without day at 12:20 a.m., March 6, 1970.

YES

SUMMARY

The proposed amendment to the Constitution amends the existing constitutional provisions which direct the division of the Commonwealth into 240 representative districts and 40 senatorial districts. It provides for a census of the inhabitants of each city and town in the Commonwealth in the year 1971 and in every tenth year thereafter. The census in 1971 is to be the basis for determining the representatives and senatorial districts for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1975. Each subsequent census shall be the basis for determining the districts for each ten-year period beginning the fourth January following each census, so that the census in 1981 will determine the districts as of January, 1985, etc.

The amendment provides that the house of representatives shall consist of two hundred and forty members and the senate of forty members. In its first regular session following each census, the Legislature shall divide the Commonwealth into two hundred and forty representative districts of contiguous territory. Each representative district shall contain, as nearly as may be, an equal number of inhabitants according to the census. Each senatorial district shall also contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants according to the census. A representative district shall not unite two or more counties, towns, or cities, or parts thereof, or a city and a town, or parts thereof, in one district unless the same is unavoidable. Further, no town of less than six thousand inhabitants shall be divided in forming representative districts. It is also provided that the County of Dukes County and Nantucket County shall each be a representative district, notwithstanding the foregoing. The senatorial districts, each of which shall elect one Senator, shall be formed without uniting two counties or parts of two or more counties, unless the same is unavoidable.

Each representative shall be an inhabitant of the district for which he is chosen at least one year immediately preceding his election, and each senator shall be an inhabitant of the district for which he is chosen at the time of his election and shall have been an inhabitant of the Commonwealth for at least five years immediately preceding his election. Any representative or senator who ceases to be an inhabitant of the Commonwealth shall cease to represent his district.

The amendment also provides that the Legislature (1) may by law limit the time within which judicial proceedings may be instituted calling in question any such division and (2) shall prescribe by law the manner of calling and conducting elections for the choice of representatives and of ascertaining their election.

Finally, the amendment annuls the existing constitutional provisions with respect to apportionment of representative and senatorial districts, although those provisions will remain in effect until January 1, 1975.

I have examined the Treasurer's and Collector's accounts in the Weymouth Water Division and believe them to be correct. Regular examinations of all transactions, with a monthly verification of cash with the official statements of all depositories, satisfies me that the Treasurer has properly accounted for all funds entrusted to him.

To the members of the Tax Office in particular, my appreciation is extended for their sincere cooperation and devotion to duty during the preceding twelve months.

TOWN COUNSEL, FRANCIS L. KELLY

REPORT OF THE TOWN COUNSEL

January 20, 1971.

Hon. Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
Town Hall, Middle Street
East Weymouth, Mass., 02189.

re LEGAL ACTIVITY REPORT FOR 1970:

Gentlemen:

Last year I reported in detail on various activities and services performed by the Legal Department. In the interests of brevity, I will not reiterate that information because the activities of the Legal Department during the year 1970 were substantially the same in character or type. In recent years, through the efforts of the Legal Department, and with the cooperation of various Town Boards and Committees, and in particular the efforts of the Department of Public Works, we have had a diminishing number of Court cases brought against the Town, in relation to the increase in governmental activity, Town services and programs, rising budgets and increased population. This reduction in the percentage of Court work has been accomplished only by a substantial increase in the office work. In other words, wherever possible, we have worked diligently to avoid litigation and I feel that we have been eminently successful. It is impossible, however, to totally eliminate suits against the Town and during the past year your Town Counsel has appeared in Court on 78 different occasions in defense of the Town, including appearances in the District Court, Superior Court, Supreme Judicial Court, Industrial Accident Board and the Appellate Tax Board. I will comment briefly on a few of the major Court activities.

A successful defense was made in two separate actions for negligent death brought in Norfolk Superior Court against Patrolman Harold L. Moore in the amount of $100,000. One of these cases was appealed to the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth, which upheld the decision of the Norfolk Superior Court in dismissing the action.

Twelve different owners of business or industrial property filed appeals with the Appellate Tax Board of the Commonwealth for a review of valuation. The most important involves the Boston Edison Company whose valuation was raised from $44 million to $53 million as a result of the Town revaluation. Edison contends that the value of its property is $28 million. Conferences were held with the Board of Selectmen, Board of Assessors and the Appropriation Committee and it was agreed by all that because of the complexity of the case, the amount of time which would have to be devoted exclusively to the defense of the case, and most of all, because of the disastrous impact that a substantial reduction of Edison's evaluation would have upon the tax rate, that the Town should engage the services of a specialist in this field — Attorney Lewis H. Weinstein of the firm of Foley, Hoag & Eliot of Boston — to handle this case.

Other cases involved defenses of claims for land damages, personal injury claims, actions brought against the Board of Selectmen, the Board of Appeals and the School Committee and defense of claims against the Town on old welfare cases.

A complete review and consolidation has been made of all of the Town's By-Laws and is now at the printers. I anticipate that copies will be made available before the 1971 Annual Town Meeting. I wish to express my appreciation to Town Clerk, Harry Christensen, for the many evenings that he came to my office to work on this project. Together we have developed a system for making future revisions in the printed By-Laws as they occur and having copies of these changes printed on replacement pages to keep the By-Laws up-to-date at all times.

Again, I would suggest to those interested in the activities of this Department to review my report for the year 1969. My only further comment is that the work-load has substantially increased during the past twelve months. We might pause for a moment to consider that the Town is, in fact, a municipal corporation whose 56,000 or more citizens are the stockholders and whose corporate valuation is approximately $350 million, represented by real estate in the Town, and whose operating budget last year was $25 million. Further, it should be borne in mind that every phase of this activity involves legal considerations and every phase of such activities is controlled by General Laws, Special Laws, By-Laws or Votes of Town Meeting. Unlike other corporations who manufacture, sell, create and so forth, all of the Town's functions are specifically authorized and conducted within a complicated framework of laws.

All of this legal work – with the exception of the Edison case noted above, and the Moore case, on which co-counsel was retained – is being done by the Town Counsel and it seems wholly unrealistic to consider the same as a part-time function.

As in prior years, I have endeavored to give service and attention to each and every official, board, committee and department of the Town. As Town Counsel, I have made myself available at any and all times.

Thirty three years ago, Judge Kenneth L. Nash, who was then Town Counsel, reported:

"In the past twelve months the Town Counsel has been consulted frequently by telephone or personal visit by various officials, members of boards or committees of the Town for advice concerning their duties and often have requested opinions suggestive of what their proper course of action should be. In order to properly cope with this phase of the work, I have kept myself available at all times for such service and I may fairly state that in no case has any individual sought legal assistance from my Department and gone away without it. The usual amount of documents such as deeds, releases, easements, bonds and conveyances of various kinds have been either drawn, approved or recorded in such cases as were necessary. In addition many consultations have been held with diverse citizens of the Town on matters that pertained in part to Town business."

What was true in Judge Nash's time is true today, except that I think it can be fairly stated that both the volume and complexity of the work has multiplied many times.

I wish to express my thanks to all of the official family of the Town for their cooperation and would like to particularly express my appreciation to the Board of Selectmen and to commend them for the many hours of service, in addition to the regularly scheduled meetings, which they have given to the people of the Town and which usually goes unnoticed.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS L. KELLY
Town Counsel

REPORT OF COMPENSATION AGENT FOR THE YEAR
ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1970

January 21, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Weymouth
Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The following is a summary of the Workmen's Compensation Department for the year 1970:

Cases Reported	191
Compensation Payments		$36,948.91
Medical Payments		8,646.95
Specific Compensation		7,750.00
Back Compensation (Lump Sum)		4,218.89
TOTAL		$57,564.75

The rise in Compensation costs was anticipated in our report for the year 1969 as the Industrial Accident Board had increased the amount of individual compensation payments. It was also anticipated that there would be Judgements handed down by the Board for Specific Compensation under Chapter 36 of the General Laws. These are matters that the Town has no control over.

May I once again thank the Board of Selectmen and the Town Counsel for their cooperation and assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. DONOHUE
Compensation Agent

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REGISTRARS

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town Hall
Weymouth, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

Herewith is submitted the annual report of the Board of Registrars covering its activities for the year 1970.

Registration Sessions	20
Business Meetings	12
Elections	3
Recounts	7

During the year, the registration of voters, the preparation of the Annual Street Listing and Census Taking were brought to a successful conclusion.

Once again may we say in passing, in 1971 due to a change in the election laws, the Board of Registrars will be required to list all persons 17 years of age or over. As a result of which there is an estimated 30 per cent increase in this work. The Registrars will be required to register as voters all persons 18 years of age or over starting on January 1, 1971. These two situations in themselves will add a tremendous burden in the work load of the Office, which in turn will require additional clerical assistance.

The total number of registered voters in the Town as of December 31, 1970 is as follows:

Precinct 1	2,059	Precinct 7	2,359
Precinct 2	2,185	Precinct 8	3,083
Precinct 3	1,648	Precinct 9	2,738
Precinct 4	2,423	Precinct 10	1,625
Precinct 5	2,246	Precinct 11	2,000
Precinct 6	1,819	Precinct 12	1,317
			25,502

We extend our thanks to your Board and all departments for assistance and courtesies during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN F. TRACY, Chairman
JAMES V. FINN
ELEANOR C. JACK
HARRY CHRISTENSEN, Clerk

REPORT OF THE STREET LIGHTING COMMITTEE

January 15, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town Hall
Weymouth, Massachusetts

HEREWITH REPORT FOR YEAR 1970

Gentlemen:

The Street Lighting Committee had no major street lighting programs in effect during 1970.

1970 Appropriation	$201,358.00
Cost of Street Lighting, 1970	$200,846.39

Numerous requests from residents were received during the year and processed in accordance with the best lighting practices. Where additional lighting was authorized it was promptly installed by the Massachusetts Electric Company. In those cases where tree trimming was determined to be the better alternative, this was accomplished.

It is estimated that operation of existing lighting in 1971 will be. . . $201,484.44.

TOWN OF WEYMOUTH DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

1970 ANNUAL REPORT

1971 PROGRAM

Our rulers will best promote the improvement of the nation by strictly confining themselves to their own legitimate duties, by leaving capital to find its most lucrative course, commodities their fair price, industry and intelligence their natural reward, idleness and folly their natural punishment, by maintaining peace, by defending property and by observing strict economy in every department of the state. Let the Government do this -- the people will assuredly do the rest.

Thomas Babington Macaulay.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS 1958 -1970

George F. Brady, present member of the Board of Public Works, is finalizing his civic service as a Board member this Spring.

George has served on the Board since the inception of Public Works in Weymouth. He is a tireless and thorough worker with his church, the Knights of Columbus and many other community organizations.

George is President and founder, along with his brothers, of Brady Enterprises, a national food processing firm – one of Weymouth's largest industrial complexes. The phenomenal growth and responsibility of Brady Enterprises motivates Mr. Brady's decision not to seek re-election to the Board of Public Works.

During his 13 years George did his "homework" diligently. He served on subcommittees, always probing and analyzing, giving mature and responsible decisions, reflecting action to the best interest of the Townspeople.

George will leave a "large pair of shoes to be filled". On behalf of the Townspeople, the Board of Public Works and Department thank George Brady for his dedicated service and wish him well.

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS

Presented herewith is the 13th annual report of the Weymouth Public Works Department. Comparisons with expenditures of past years, along with recommendations for the year 1971, will be made with explanations as to any sizeable increases.

In this great era of "change" many new philosophies are emerging. "We've always done it that way" is no longer accepted as a logical reason for continuing a certain pursuit in a certain manner. "There certainly must be a better way because the present way is unacceptable". Change for change sake, however, may be as dangerous as a stoic resistance to change.

One of the most widespread, most influential and most imaginative of the new philosophies is ANTI-POLLUTION.

Is this so new? Elected officials – mayors, city managers, city councils, boards of selectmen, boards of public works, boards of health – all are official "service custodians" of a given community. Take away the public safety groups – fire and police; the educational group – schools; the administrative groups – accounting, assessing, tax collecting, etc. – and you have reduced matters to today's most talked about, most concerned about problem – POLLUTION.

Public Works is the direct custodian of "Everyone's" pollution and has been since its inception.

It is Public Works responsibility to collect, destroy, reduce, bury, burn, clean or "hide" everyone's ALL-POLLUTION.

1. To clean-treat the municipal water supply – to deliver an adequate quantity and potable quality of non-polluted water to every citizen every day of the year every year.
2. To make available and maintain a system of collection and disposal of PERSONAL POLLUTION – sewage.
3. To make available and maintain a system of collection and disposal of another PERSONAL POLLUTION – garbage and rubbish.
4. To make available and maintain a system of collection and disposal of HOUSEHOLD POLLUTION – discarded stoves, sinks, refrigerators, furniture, toys, etc.
5. To make available and maintain a system of collection and disposal of NATURAL POLLUTION – dead or diseased trees, stumps, leaves, grass rakings, broken branches, hedge trimmings, etc.
6. Cleaning of highway surfaces.
7. Collection of highway, park playground and beach litter.
8. Cleaning of brooks, streams and drainage systems.

We are in the ANTI-POLLUTION business. The existing pollution was not created overnight and it will not be cleaned up overnight. The existing pollution will not be eliminated unless everyone is concerned and everyone does something about it.

As in past years, the writer offers comparisons of recent years' costs, Public Works vs. other governmental agencies.

1970 in general was a very productive year. The "construction weather" was excellent and various constructive accomplishments will be pointed out in the individual division accountings.

It is quite evident to the department that the homeowner in Weymouth, as well as in all other communities, is feeling the excruciating pinch of the tax dollar as well as the higher cost of all other commodities, services and necessary utilities.

By the same token, the people are becoming more involved in their government and are, in a manner of speaking, demanding more service and better service.

Methods and equipment are constantly improving, taking up some of this gap – the balance, of course, has to be implemented by more manpower and equipment. It would be ideal to reduce the snow routes to half their length, to construct sewer over a short period everywhere the demand exists, to re-construct all the streets that need working, to correct all drainage problems over a short time, to give a more complete and elaborate refuse collection service, – programs of this type, of course, would be obvious financial irresponsibility.

On the other hand, every effort has to be made to produce the utmost effort with the monies and manpower made available.

To this end the Department of Public Works so dedicates itself.

Once again, the writer would like to thank the members of the Board of Public Works, Selectmen, Park Commissioners, Board of Health, Fire Chief James Stevens, Police Chief Joseph B. O'Kane, Town Counsel Francis Kelly, and all the Town departments, boards and committees, superintendents, men and women of Public Works for their generous cooperation this past year.

4. CASH RECEIPTS

Receipts for sale of Atlas, contracts, plans and maps turned over to Town Treasurer – $1,396.07.

The year 1970 was the heaviest year ever for the Engineering Division in terms of monies committed for construction of Public Works capital outlay projects. The total of $1,330,222.28 committed in which the Division had a hand in the layout, design and partial supervision of construction is almost double the previous high of $704,308.59 in the year 1963.

In 1963 the Division consisted of a total complement of 12 permanent positions, including personnel other than the Town Engineer and the Assistant Town Engineer capable of design, as compared to 10 in 1970 with no design engineers with the exception of the two mentioned. As a result contracts have been slow to be committed due to the lack of design engineers.

It appears that the construction program, now that the final phase of the Back River Flood Control is in the final stages, will remain around the one million per year for some time to come. The addition of a design engineer to the Division will result in contracts being let as much as one year sooner which, in turn, will provide more sewers, for less money due to rising construction costs each year.

To acquire a qualified design engineer will cost the Town less than half what the Town now pays for consultant services.

5. SPECIAL PROJECTS

- Reconstructed historical watering trough at Front, Hunt and Stetson Streets.
- As sustaining program, reconstructed and paved extensive area of shoulder and grass plot on Bursley Road.
- With cooperation of Wessagussett Yacht Club, stabilized slope on shoulder of Wessagussett Road at rear of yacht club. 2 to 6 ton reinforced concrete beams were used to terrace area 75' long, 20' in depth.
- 600' of drainage constructed on Veda Road extension to Patricia Lane area. 200' of 24" pipe installation to alleviate drainage problem.
- Westlake Drive drain reconstructed to relieve flooding area.
- Dam at Cranberry Pond repaired.

- (g) Steel stairs constructed at end of Saunders Street for access to beach.
- (h) Terraced area to rear of O'Sullivan tennis courts to alleviate erosion.
- (i) Graded and paved area at Dog Pound.

6. DRAIN MAINTENANCE

The eductor (mechanical catch basin cleaner) was purchased in 1960. It has served well, but for the last two years the "down time" has been costly to production. Continual maintenance to drain systems, cleaning of basins and manholes is of utmost importance to drainage system's performance.

Local flooding caused by maintenance neglect causes public damage and threatens public safety. To rely on hand cleaning in this day and age is archaism. The department has proposed for 1971 a machine that will not only replace the eductor for drain cleaning but will also be utilized in a new problem – leaf cleaning.

7. HIGHWAY SWEEPING

As in 1969, the two Town sweepers had little "down" time. Switching over to a diesel machine has produced dividends.

8. HIGHWAY OIL AND SAND SEAL

Although more oil was used in 1970 over 1969, the "phase out" theory is still the objective. There are certain outlying roads that require oil treatment to "hold what we have" until such time as major work may be accomplished on the subbase and drainage.

10. SNOW AND ICE CONTROL

The "fiscal" snow year for the Town runs from January 1 through December 31 of a given year. Department records show an estimated 69 1/2 inches, 30 inches of which occurred in the month of December, 1970. January, February and March snows were frequent but light, reducing removal costs considerably.

These areas are all maintained by the Division.

* In 1970, Whitman's Pond was drawn down for the purpose of construction of the Back River Flood Control. The pond will be refilled and used 1971 judging upon the present flood control construction progress.

However, during 1970, acts of vandalism have destroyed the use of the toilet facilities at the Lake Street beach. The plumbing, toilet bowls, sinks and piping were completely destroyed, wiring was torn out, holes were smashed through the concrete block walls, and the steel doors smashed. It is the present opinion it will be more economical to replace the building rather than repair it. (Estimated cost $7,500.00).

2. Projects done by private contract

Fencing at Negus Park, Lovells playground and Webb Park.

3. Tree Planting and removal by Division

- (a) 160 trees and shrubs were planted in various locations of the Town.
- (b) 125 Dutch Elm removed.
- (c) 65 trees removed for road construction.

The Park and Tree Division is also responsible for the general maintenance of all public shade trees, greens, parks and playgrounds, the upkeep and cleaning of the beach facilities at Wessagussett Beach and Whitman's Pond.

The Division is also responsible for limited maintenance of old cemeteries.

Malicious vandalism and continual public littering is costing the residents of Weymouth thousands of dollars in manhours and repair – time and money that could be well used for improving and extending existing recreational facilities.

"Public property be damned" attitude, Weymouth and nationally, is a sad commentary of the times.

The Sanitation Division is perhaps the most indicative to the results of the growth of the community, the habits of the community and, more recently, reflecting the new curbs put on open burning in backyards, school and apartment incinerators not meeting regulations – also the "throw away" type of processing and commercializing.

The following statistics are offered to illustrate the trends – the performance and the scope of Weymouth's operation.

In October 1969, bids were taken for the dispoal of metals by private contract. The bids require the private contractor to supply trucks or other similar methods whereby metals could be weighed, hauled away and the Town paid the highest bid per ton.

R. Sugarman and Sons, Inc. of Quincy, was the successful bidder, offering $3.76/ton for metal. After a slow start, this operation has proven highly successful.

It is not only the remuneration received for the metals, but, just as important, the preservation of space that would otherwise be used up by burying the stoves, refrigerators, etc., thus extending the dumping area lifetime.

The contractor presently delivers to the disposal area empty metal boxes with capacity of 20-30 yds. The incinerator forces load these boxes and then alert the contractor for pickup.

The boxes are weighed for net contents and hauled away, the Town receiving $3.76/ton.

Following is a record of tonnage and monies received for mixed metals 1970.

3. REMARKS

The statistics of the past several years clearly show an increase of operation in all areas – more tonnage burned, more tonnage collected. The outside burning ban, the pollution-removal inefficiency of school, apartment and store incinerators, along with the growth of the Town, are the chief contributing factors to these increases.

In 1970 many more hours of overtime burning was necessary. 1971 Public Works will recommend the consideration of a second shift for burning.

MASTER HIGHWAY PROGRAM – 1971 PROPOSAL

1. Chapter 90. It is recommended that 1971 Chapter 90 monies be assigned to the future reconstruction of Pleasant Street from Water Street, East Weymouth, to the Expressway. The State Department of Public Works has indicated that actual construction may commence early 1972. Several years' monies have already been earmarked for this project.
2. Town Master Highway. The Board of Public Works has elected to recommend a one-year moratorium on Town highway reconstruction. Monies appropriated in 1970 are available for construction of Water Street and the short section of Pleasant Street from Jackson Square to Water Street.

The Board is also sponsoring articles for required landtaking and slope easements along Neck and River Streets in preparation for future reconstruction.

MASTER DRAINAGE PROGRAM – 1971 PROPOSAL

As with the Master Highway Program, the Board of Public Works is recommending a one-year moratorium on requested funds for drainage. It is pointed out that there are many serious drainage problems that should be corrected, but it is the opinion that sewerage has serious priority.

There is recommended a minor increase within the Highway Division budget for more surface treatment to be accomplished with highway personnel.

STREET ACCEPTANCE PROPOSAL – 1971

The following recommendations for Accepted Streets are offered by the Board.

1. Patterson St. (sewer and water only 1971)	$40,000
2. Vinson St. (sewer and water only 1971)	19,500
3. Orleans Rd.	7,500
4. Harvard & Avonia (sewer and water only 1971)	15,500
5. Oakridge Circle	7,000
6. Marie Ave. (Class A street) sewer not available	None
	$89,500

Constructing sewer and water only in 1971 on several of the streets may very well reduce highway cost estimates for 1972 due to anticipated ledge removal and grading.

This will leave the following balance to be considered in 1972:

1. Patterson St. (highway work)	22,500 ?
2. Vinson St.	7,900 ?
3. Harvard and Avonia	9,900 ?
4. Hale and Nelson	18,200
	$58,500

Presently the Highway Division has no backlog of accepted street work.

SUMMARY OF HISTORICAL STATISTICS

Year ending December 31, 1970

Population	1969 Census	55,000
	1970 Estimated	55,325

Origin of Construction - First formed in 1825 as a private company; the Weymouth Aqueduct Corp., dissolved by legislature in 1873. Reformed by Special Town Meeting in 1883. The original 34 miles of pipeline and the then new Reed Avenue standpipe were turned over to the newly formed Board of Water Commissioners in December 1885. Now owned by the Town of Weymouth as a division of Public Works. The division is self-supporting - not from tax money but water sales revenue. (Water is nature-given; the charge is for cleaning and delivering and setting up for insurance against fire).

Prime Source of Water Supply - Weymouth Great Pond, with Whitman Pond cove as auxiliary supply.

Water Volume of Great Pond (Full) - 1,026,000 gallons.

Usable Volume of Whitman Pond cove - 2.5 million gallons per day safe yield.

Maximum Capacity of Water Treatment Plant - 9.0 million gallons per day.

Average daily consumption 1970 - 4.38 million gallons per day.

1969 - 4.07 million gallons per day.

Water Storage Tanks

High Service System

#1 Reed Ave. - 59' diameter x 98' high, capacity
2.0 million gallons, constructed in 1970.

#2 Park Ave. - 49' diameter x 90' high, capacity
1.25 million gallons, constructed in 1957.

#3 Essex St. - 37' diameter x 128' high, capacity
1.0 million gallons, constructed in 1948.

Low Service System

#1 Monatiquot St. - 45' diameter x 120' high, capacity
1.4 million gallons, constructed in 1931.

#2 Randall Ave. - 55' diameter x 30' high, capacity
.5 million gallons, constructed in 1949.

#3 Great Hill - 65' diameter x 20' high, capacity
.5 million gallons, constructed in 1959.

Total Water Capacity 6.65 million gallons.

Method of Water Treatment - Raw water is pumped to the Water Treatment Plant by any one or combination of the three low lift centrifugal pumps* from the raw water intake structure at pondside. The raw water intake structure has two sizes of screens to remove trash (sticks, leaves, fish, eels, etc.). The larger screens have openings of 1 1/2 inches; the fine screens have openings of 3/16 of an inch.

*Raw Water Pump #1 - Fairbanks Morse - 3000 GPM - 1150 RPM -
50 HP Motor

*Raw Water Pump #2 - DeLaval - 2000 GPM - 1150 RPM - 25 HP Motor

*Raw Water Pump #3 - DeLaval - 1800 GPM - 1170 RPM - 20 HP Motor

Raw water then flows to the flash mix tank where it is detained for two minutes in order that it may be completely mixed with several chemicals set out below:

- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------|
| A) Liquid alum | for coagulation |
| B) Hydrated Lime | for PH control |
| C) Potassium permanganate | to remove manganese |
| D) Chlorine | to disinfect |

This solution now passes through the Primary Flocculation Tank (15 minute detention) and Coagulation Tanks where additional mixing takes place at a slower rate. Following these tanks, the water then slowly flows through Sedimentation or Settling Basins (capacity 897,000 gallons) where any one particle of water is detained for at least three hours and where the "Floc" (a sticky gel just heavier than water) settles down through the water, absorbing colored matter, bacteria, insoluble material and most visible impurities.

Water from the surface of the Settling Basins is then brought into the Filter Gallery by gravity where all water is filtered through 30 inches of sand, four 3-inch graduations of gravel (ranging from 3/16" to 1" in size) past three different sizes of porcelain balls (1 1/4" to 3") from which it falls through voids in the concrete support slab to the storage clearwell below. (capacity 353,000 gallons)

The clear filtered water is now corrected for acidity by the addition of lime to raise its PH to a reading of about 7.8. Chlorine is added again, just enough to be detectable but not enough to be distasteful, in the extreme ends of the distribution system. This precaution is a requirement of the State Health Department.

Finished water is pumped from the "Clear Well" into the distribution system by any combination of three high lift pumps and one low lift pump.

a) High Lift Pump #4 - Fairbanks Morse - 1900 GPM - 1750 RPM -
150 HP Motor

b) High Lift Pump #5 - DeLaval - 1400 GPM - 1760 RPM - 75 HP Motor

c) High Lift Pump #6 - DeLaval - 1800 GPM - 1755 RPM - 100 HP Motor

Water quality tests are made at least once each hour by the plant operator on duty. Twelve different samples are delivered twice each month to the State Health Department for analysis. In addition, the Department retains an independent testing laboratory to collect and analyze a minimum of 45 samples per month, taken from various sampling points throughout the Town. These tests are taken as added protection for the Weymouth water user.

REPORT OF THE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

1970 was the "year of the apartment house", for the Town of Weymouth. New building permit values for commercial properties totaled $7,674,000, a whopping increase of $4,320,954 over 1969, to be added to the tax base for years to come. However, $7,240,000 was for apartment house construction (a new high for any year in the history of the town) and only $434,000 was for business and industrial buildings.

The business recession of the past year caused many companies that your Commission was negotiating with to take a second look at their expansion plans and in many instances, their managements decided to forgo them. The winding down of the space program and the reduction in the purchase of missile guidance hardware by the Government resulted in fewer subcontracts for electronic firms located along the periphery of Route 128, creating widespread unemployment of local engineers.

Your Commission feels that we are presently in a waiting period before transition of this unemployed engineering talent to other technology-based fields, particularly the engineering and design of pollution control equipment. Past surveys have indicated a lack of engineers in the Weymouth area. This is not so today, and our best hope for the immediate future lies in the combination of our assets of available engineering personnel and good locations to draw this desirable "think-tank" type of light industry to Weymouth.

We thank your honorable Board and all other town officials for the cooperation, encouragement and courtesies extended to the Weymouth Industrial Development Commission.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN P. O'CONNOR, Chairman

HOUSING FOR THE ELDERLY

After seeking, for several years, land that would be suitable for an Elderly Housing Project, the Town of Weymouth gave us a piece of land next to the Central Jr. High School on Broad Street for the building of an eighty (80) unit Housing and Recreation Development. Construction was started in August of 1964 and in August of 1965 the buildings were completed and fully occupied.

The rules and regulations are that one must be 65 years of age or over. Income must not exceed $2,500.00 for a single occupancy and $3,000.00 for a double occupancy, were adhered to and at present there is a long waiting list.

In March of 1966 we went before the Town Meeting requesting permission to construct 75 more units for the Elderly. We were granted this request. Survey for land was taken, locations selected and sub-zoned for residential so an appearance before the Appeals Board was arranged for a variance. In the Acts of 1966 we were granted variance to build multiple dwelling units on this parcel of land. At this writing our second housing for the Elderly has been opened and completely occupied.

Occupancy in Project 667-2 was completed in January 1969. We still have several hundred applications in our files requesting apartments for the Elderly. At a Special Town Meeting in November 1968, we submitted an article in the warrant requesting permission to construct a third Elderly Project 667-3 with 80 units. The Town voted to accept the article, so we are now in the preliminary stages for our 667-3 Project. Our tentative target date for completion of the project is 1972.

Due to the Acts of 1970 of the Legislature as of January 1, 1971, we re-examined all our Elderly rents and in order to comply with the law, all Elderly People living in State Aided Projects shall not pay more than 25% of their income for rent, including utilities or 20% of their income if utilities are not included.

The Weymouth Housing Authority will do all in its power to continue to help our Elderly Citizens of Weymouth and give them the feeling of independence that is so important to all and also let them know that they are needed in the Town for their counselling and wisdom.

707 STATE RENTAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

In our 1969 report, we stated that our target date for 667-3 was 1970. However, due to the curtailment of money, we were unable to proceed with this program.

The ever increasing demand for housing for the elderly prompted the Weymouth Housing Authority Commissioners to take action to alleviate the existing emergency in the town. Special meetings were called and the result was our application for an intermediate program of Rental Assistance. On August 15, 1969, we received approval of our application for Rental Assistance.

As a result, a great deal of work was instituted on a crash program. Applications, consultations, signing of leases with tenants and landlords and we were able to submit a list of thirteen (13) applications for approval and on December 23, 1969 we received a check for $3,129.00. This program started on January 1, 1970.

In 1970, we added to our rolls on this 707 Rental Assistance Program 80 more units which now gives us a total in the Town of Weymouth 156 Elderly, 208 Veterans, and 93 Rental Assistance Recipients.

Due to the ever increasing demand for apartments in the Town of Weymouth, we are requesting aid from Federal Grant, H. U. D. Our first grant under a Turnkey Program under H. U. D. is for 200 apartments - 150 for elderly and 50 for low-income. We hope to get this underway in the summer of 1971.

In December of 1970, we received communications from the Department of Community Affairs that they had selected a site for our new 667-3 Elderly Project. As funds are held up in Legislature we anticipate starting this program in 1971 also. This will be a high rise elderly apartment containing 90-100 apartments.

This program clearly indicates that if enough effort is put into it the end result will mean that we have helped out people and alleviated a housing emergency in our Town.

REPORT OF THE WEYMOUTH REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
75 Middle Street
Weymouth, Mass. 02189

Gentlemen:

The Weymouth Redevelopment Authority has held (5) Regular Meetings and (3) Special Meetings during the year 1970.

The Authority stands ready to assist the Town in qualifying for assisted programs in such cases as the Board of Selectmen should choose to initiate.

Once again it is clear that the development of land resources in the Town is following private interests rather than planned municipal uses. This fact indicates the need to create in Weymouth an official office known as Municipal Planner under the control and direction of the Board of Selectmen.

WEYMOUTH FIRE DEPARTMENT

REPORT OF THE FIRE CHIEF

December 31, 1970

The Honorable Board of Selectmen
Weymouth
Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

I herewith submit the Annual Report of the Fire Department for the year ending December 31, 1970.

The Department responded to a total of one thousand eight hundred forty four calls listed as follows:

Residential	65
Non-Residential Assembly	5
Mercantile	5
Manufacturing	4
Garages and other Buildings	23
Grass or Brush	586
Autos, Boats, etc.	116
False Alarms	217
Smoke Scares, Accidental Alarms, etc.	316
First Aid, Accidents & Emergencies	454
Mutual Aid	53
	1844

The number of False Alarms this year "217" has increased again over the record high of "167" recorded last year. Needless to say this unfortunate condition reflects the times we live in today. The pulling of a False Alarm is a crime, leaves people without Fire Protection if a fire should occur at that moment, costs the taxpayer money and endangers the lives of firefighters, pedestrians, and motorists while apparatus is responding.

The present complement of the Fire Department consists of 120 men listed as follows:

Chief, four Deputy Chiefs, five Captains, fourteen Lieutenants, ninety-three Firefighters, one Superintendent of Fire Alarm, one Signal Maintainer and one Master Mechanic.

Firefighter Robert Mulligan resigned from the Department this past year with only a little over one year of service. Firefighter William Swift retired this year with 25 years of permanent and 8 years of call service. Roger Conant has been appointed as a firefighter to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of William Swift. Robert Mulligan's vacancy will be filled early in January 1971 from an existing Civil Service List.

The personnel of the department made nineteen hundred ninety five inspections during the year including Nursing Homes, Hospital, Schools, Mercantile Buildings, Manufacturing Buildings, Oil Burner Installations, Flammable Fluids Storage, Blasting, Fireworks and others. This represents an increase of four hundred fifty nine over the previous year which indicates two important points: 1. The Town is still growing requiring necessary inspections to be made. 2. This department is emphasizing Fire Prevention and a good regular inspection schedule is the back-bone of this program.

According to our fire records compiled this year the number of fires in dwellings has decreased by 17 from the previous year. This appears to be a positive indication that the Home Inspection Program is paying off lucrative dividends in the form of perhaps lives being saved, along with property of home owners, plus the fact that the Town is not losing any revenue from taxable property that might have been destroyed by fire. When you take into consideration that the number of dwellings and people occupying them has increased in Weymouth this past year this important statistic should be construed as a commendation to the firefighters making home inspections, and the fine cooperation of the home owners in promptly correcting hazards brought to their attention during these inspections.

The Home Inspection Program is a public service rendered by the fire department to the home owners of the town. It functions as follows: Permission is requested from the home owner to inspect the premises and if granted two firemen accompanied by the occupant of the building inspect the first floor, basement and outside buildings. If any hazards or dangerous conditions are found they are pointed out to the occupant. The fire department does not keep any records or disclose any information regarding the inspection to anyone else. The inspection is voluntary on the part of the occupant and conducted solely for the benefit of the occupant as a service from the fire department. This year the department was invited to inspect approximately 4358 homes in East Weymouth and the Landing.

The Junior Fire Marshall Program has commenced its eighteenth year. It encompasses pupils from the sixth grade in all elementary schools in the town. The program is sponsored by insurance companies and carried out by firefighters who are trained to instruct these children as follows: recognize and correct hazards in their homes, how to report a fire, plan an escape route from their house in case of fire, what is required of them when performing baby sitting duties if an emergency occurs and how to express what they have learned by writing essays and drawing posters. It has proven to be an excellent fire prevention program not only in Weymouth but all over the United States.

This is the third year of the Invalidism Program that has been started in conjunction with the Weymouth Lodge of Elks. The program consists of an identifying sticker, the symbol of the "Maltese Cross" being attached to the front door of a home where an invalid, deaf, dumb or blind person resides. Many Weymouth residents are already enrolled in this program any others who qualify for this service are welcome to join. Admission is free just call the fire department and we will take it from there.

This coming year the department will not only focus attention to inspections of dwellings but a new system of detailed inspections will include all public, business and mercantile buildings. Each building inspected will be diagrammed by the inspector on graph paper listing information relative to water supplies, construction, fire protection and extinguishing equipment, fire alarm systems, exits, gas, electric and water shut-offs and other pertinent characteristics of each particular building. These drawings will be studied by all members of the department, kept on file, and when a particular building is involved with fire the firefighters will have a clear, in-depth picture of all the necessary information they will require to perform the best job humanly possible on the building concerned.

In order to keep abreast of the times education is a necessary requisite for our department. We are required to make inspections, recommendations for handling, storage and use of chemicals, flammable fluids, explosives, flammable and compressed gases and other materials covered by law. At the present time not many of the manufacturers or users of the above materials have remained dormant with their products. They have changed their products, upgraded some and modified others due to research and technology. To compensate for these changes new laws have been provided by the Department of Public Safety and new fire codes and building codes by the American Insurance Association to protect the public. However to interpret these laws and codes in order to enforce them and make intelligent recommendations and suggestions to the public, manufacturers and business men with problems relative to hazardous materials and conditions a comprehensive knowledge of laws, the materials they relate to, nature of the business, and the people concerned is required. Many of the answers to these problems have been provided by a number of our personnel who have been attending Massasoit Community College which offers courses in fire prevention, fire protection, fire laws and human relations for the past four years.

This year nine men are attending classes in this institution on their own time with no compensation except the knowledge they receive that not only benefits themselves but rubs off on the other men and permeates the whole department. As in the past I want to congratulate the members of the department going to Massasoit for their perseverance and dedication to an educational ideal, also the upgrading resulting from the knowledgeable influence these men have provided for us.

Two men have attended a series of seminars at the South Shore Hospital conducted by a physician on the subject of cardiac massage. This is a technique performed in the past by physicians for the aid of heart victims. Now after proper training by these men all the members of the department will be able to supplement their mechanical resuscitator service with this added approved method of stimulating the heart.

Training in the department goes on fifty-two weeks a year. The program originated by the Drill Master under the supervision of the Chief. All drills are uniform in nature, checked by the Drill Master and a report of their results is forwarded to the Chief in writing. This past year to get more out of this program an attempt was made to simulate actual fire conditions for the proper use of foam and water spray. The South Weymouth Naval Naval Air Station cooperated with us by allowing the department to set gasoline fires in an old burned out plane on their facility. This proved a big help in allowing men to use equipment under real fire conditions in accordance with instructions. Permission was also obtained to use a vacant building for our ladder practice. As it was possible to use all types of ladders on this building actual practice under instruction was the result here as well.

This year a contract was signed with The Mack Company for delivery early next year of a 1000 Gallon Per Minute Mack Diesel Pumper for Station #5 South Weymouth to replace a 1949 750 Gallon Per Minute Maxim Pumper. We have similar Mack Diesel Pumpers running from Station #1 and Station #2 and their performance has been excellent.

The cooperation and assistance extended to me by all the capable Heads of Departments and their personnel, Legislative, Representatives, Honorable Selectmen, Appropriations Committee and The Town Counsel is indeed appreciated.

A thank you to the citizens of Weymouth for their interest in the fire department and to the men of the fire department whose ardent devotion to duty strengthens the efficiency of operation.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES O. STEVENS, Chief
Weymouth Fire Department

REPORT OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

January 11, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Weymouth Town Hall
75 Middle Street
East Weymouth, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

I respectfully submit the following as my seventeenth annual report of the activities of the Weymouth Police Department for the year ending December 31, 1970.

The past year continued the increased demand of the citizenry for police protection and services, which demand has been constantly growing over the last ten years. The greatest single area of calls to the department came from the many apartment complexes for first aid and ambulance service and for apartment burglaries. Citizen requests for traffic surveillance and particular enforcement on certain streets also increased in 1970.

Continued research and study of the various demands of the department were made so that the department capability to respond would be enhanced and in keeping with the changing needs of a growing community. It can be said with some degree of confidence that no matter what the foreseeable future brings in the form of technological advances, such technology in the police application will be built around two components: computer systems and electronic communications systems. In short a modern police department will provide capacity for response to technological advances and flexibility for response to changing community needs.

The mere addition of increased numbers of police officers is not the answer to Twentieth Century crime problems, although in some areas limited personnel increases can be justified. A conservative 1970 Federal Census lists Weymouth population at 55,325. The F.B.I. Police Employee Data reports shows the average number of police employees in communities the size of Weymouth to be two per thousand inhabitants. At this rate Weymouth's 93 officer strength is 17 men below the national average. These figures show department effort of striving not for great increases in personnel, but rather for an increase in the quantity and quality of concepts and technology to support existing personnel and enhance their effectiveness.

In keeping with the above the Weymouth Police Department has gone ahead jointly with Quincy, Braintree and Milton Police Departments as the South Metropol District and received a second Federal funding of the "Suburban Police Automatic Information System" (SPAIS) in a total amount of $78,000.00 for a computer installation scheduled to commence operations during January 1972. Weymouth Police Department, on its own applications, has received through Federal funding a modern fully equipped traffic accident and services vehicle and radar and communication equipment at no cost to the Town. Additional applications are being prepared for submission in the near future to continue participation in the Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Act program.

The partially Federal funded new terminal console of the Public Safety Teleprocessing System, which replaced the old teletype system, is now in full operation and links Weymouth to all other police and related agencies and allows inquiry directly into the files of the National Crime Information Center in Washington, D. C.

In 1967 the need for education for police was emphasized by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Criminal Justice. A comprehensive and meaningful police education should provide exposure to many disciplines, including law, physical sciences, social sciences, humanities and public administration. A well educated police officer is better prepared to face the challenges and complexities of the police service in contemporary society. Participation in educational programs is encouraged in the Weymouth Police Department to the extent that members of the department have attended courses at Northeastern University, Massasoit Community College, Quincy Junior College, the Municipal Police Training Schools held at Brockton and Quincy Police Academies, the F.B.I. Firearms Instructors School, and many other training conferences and seminars.

The latest F.B.I. Uniform Crime Report, released December 21, 1970, recorded a ten percent increase in the crime index nationally during the first nine months of 1970 when compared with the same period in 1969. Armed robbery increased eighteen percent and assaults with a firearm increased ten percent. Weymouth experienced a twenty percent increase in Crime Index offenses for the full twelve months. Reported to Weymouth Police were 380 offenses in 1970 as compared to 318 offenses in 1969 and 284 offenses reported in 1968. The most frequently committed crimes were burglary, larceny and auto theft.

During the year 1970 officers of the Patrol Division made 7,788 investigations as compared to 5,884 in 1969. They inspected 3,539 buildings (closed homes, etc.) in addition to regular patrol inspections in which 335 buildings were found open and secured. 62 defects in streets were reported, 13 fires were discovered, and 105 missing persons were located. This Division also responded to 1,334 ambulance calls and 328 service calls (lock outs, general help, etc.) and served 1,671 warrants and summonses for out of Town departments.

The Traffic Bureau prepared and submitted, with supporting data, a list of accident prone intersections to be filed with the State Department of Public Works for roadway improvements and updating or new installation of traffic control devices where approved, costs to be borne by the State under the "Topics Highway Program." New Traffic light installations were installed at White and Central Streets and at Lake, Middle and Essex Streets under a State reimbursement of 75% of cost from programs also submitted by this Bureau. 177 traffic arrests, 3,575 traffic citations for moving violations and 2,863 parking tickets were processed by this Bureau in 1970. During the year the 32 school crossings were completely assigned to women School Traffic Supervisors and they have done a commendable job in carrying out their assignments.

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation is called upon for many diversified assignments both of an enforcement and service nature. 3,667 investigations were made by officers of this Bureau during the past year and $180,608.13 in stolen property was recovered. Court prosecutions handled by this Bureau were as follows: 206 juveniles on 249 complaints and 1,875 adults on 2,411 complaints were arraigned in the District Court. 26 juvenile complaints and 233 adult complaints are still pending in the District Court.

Total fines imposed in the District Court amounted to $41,665.00. 89 cases were disposed of in the Superior Court with 30 felony and 52 misdemeanor cases still pending in this court. Many and varied services were also rendered by this Bureau to other Town departments during the year.

In all Weymouth Police Department investigated 11,455 complaints of every nature during 1970 compared with 9,302 in 1969 and 8,823 in 1968 and 8,122 in 1967.

Of major administrative concern is the fact that for the fourth consecutive year Weymouth Police Department has lost experienced police officers to other police departments because of low salary rates. Fifteen men, on whom thousands of dollars in equipment and training has been spent, have now left the department because of this issue. Objective consideration must be given to increasing police salaries to a more competitive level.

I wish to express my appreciation to the members of the Weymouth Police Department for their loyalty, dedication to duty and efficiency in carrying out their assignments.

My appreciation is also extended to Attorney Francis L. Kelly who, as Town Counsel, rendered many legal services and assistance to the Police Department and to Director of Public Works Arthur J. Bilodeau for his assistance in traffic signs and markings, and to all Town Officials for many courtesies.

I particularly wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to each and every member of the Board of Selectmen for their confidence, whole-hearted cooperation and constant support extended to me and to the members of the Police Department during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH B. O'KANE
Chief of Police

REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE COMMISSION

The Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

Weymouth Civil Defense activities during 1970 have consisted mostly of local weekly drills and monthly meetings as required by the State and Federal Government.

Protection against radio active fallout continues as in previous years. The town has twenty-one (21) public shelters. Fourteen (14) of these are stocked with emergency rations, water barrels, sanitary, first aid and radio detection equipment.

All equipment has been maintained and is in good working condition. During the year considerable amount of material and equipment has been purchased for various town departments through Government surplus.

We were unfortunate to lose the services (due to health) of Dr. I. L. Shaw, Jr. as Radio Officer. His conscientious work over the years will be sorely missed. We are fortunate, however, to fill this important position with Mr. Raymond E. Neiland.

Respectfully submitted,

New Buildings		$ 21,000
Alterations		3,991
		$ 24,991

It is obvious that the major portion of our newly constructed buildings in the past year has been apartments. I believe that the trend toward apartment living will continue and these properties will provide a large part of our new taxable income for many years to come. This is brought about by our new Zoning By-Laws which were approved in 1969 and have received such hearty approval by not only the Townspeople, but also, statewide recognition. Once again, Weymouth is one of the leaders in providing adequate Zoning and Building By-Laws for suburban fast growing townships.

Concentration on multiple dwelling units has caused considerable investigation as to the type of construction which will facilitate life safety to the greatest degree. Serious consideration always been given to intelligent management to preserve the taxable value of all property in the years to come.

Buildings erected of 12" masonry walls with precast concrete floors and ceilings have been encouraged as this type of construction will bring about the long range gains that are desired.

This year, our fees collected total $34,310.95, whereas, our total budget was approximately $50,000. The ratio between expense and income has narrowed considerably through the total volume plus the elevation of fees.

In a review of the report, it is interesting to note that the number of demolitions far exceeds the number of any previous year which indicates that construction in the future will be for the most part in areas where older type buildings are replaced.

The Building Department is now responsible for forty five (45) elevators compared with sixteen (16) in 1960. Annual inspections require many hours in order to insure proper maintenance. The number of swimming pools installed during the past year has doubled.

Noteworthy, also, is the number of alterations permits which require considerable consultation and inspections. Most permits are for family expansion in small residences which is the most feasible way taxpayers may care for an expanding family.

The Permanent Building Code Committee has recommended this year that the Town secure membership in BOCA (Building Officials Conference of America) at an expense of approximately $200 which includes their numerous publications. BOCA is an organization with headquarters in Chicago and a membership of the majority of cities and larger townships from the middle west to the eastern seaboard. The BOCA building code is the one which our State Department of Public Safety, as well as many of our large cities, use for reference.

We are in hopes this year to have our office congestion relieved. A rearrangement of the office, as well as, a reorganization of the personnel in the Department will help to combat the problems that appear so frequently in a fast expanding community.

This year, I have received tremendous personal satisfaction in that our small Department has been cited for our accomplishments by other inspection groups, developers and contractors who have appreciated the cooperation which they have received. Somehow or other, people like to come to Weymouth to locate and build. This would not have been possible had it not been for the staff who comprise the Building Department and I want to extend my appreciation to my co-workers, your Board, Public Works, Police and Fire and other Town Departments who assist us in accomplishing the overall line safety and compliance to our Building and Zoning By-Laws.

REPORT OF THE PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT

January 3, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

1970 has been a very active year for the Personnel Board, Personnel Officer and Town Collective Bargaining Negotiator in our attempt to maintain good personnel relations along with strict administration of the Personnel By-Law.

The responsibility of labor negotiations under assignment by the Selectmen has been particularly difficult and time consuming, due to the need to consider both the rapid increases in competitive wages and rapidly rising taxes.

Prior to the Annual Town Meeting tentative agreements had been reached, through negotiations, with the Public Works and Firefighters Employee Associations, based upon the Personnel Board's position at the time. Later through submission to impartial arbitration and fact finding the position which the Personnel Board had reached in negotiations with the Police Association was upheld.

Due to the fact that appropriation of only part of the funds required to implement the Personnel Board's position was voted at the Annual and Special Town Meetings, no final agreements were signed. Continued negotiations, however, brought about tentative understandings and some progress toward settlements, that we trust will be accepted in 1971.

Twenty seven negotiating sessions were held during the year ably handled by Town Negotiator Joseph F. Harraghy.

To bring the Town Personnel By-Law up to date the following limited changes were accepted by vote at the Annual Town Meeting.

Six Percent general increase for all full time employees.

Six rate classification changes.

Two new positions.

Three transfers from Mechanical and Construction Group to Public Safety.

Time and one half overtime for custodians, Fire and Police.

Maximum sick leave changed from 100 to 110 days.

Board meetings were scheduled the second Monday of each month, but being a very active year, 35 full board meetings were held with over 93% of full attendance.

The Personnel Officer held regular office hours each Monday evening throughout the year.

Cases too numerous to list, consisting of changes in classification, approval of new employees, settlement of grievances, handling of requests and contacts with sources of information of use to the board in reaching decisions, were conducted by the Personnel Officer and members of the Board.

The Personnel Board and Personnel Officer wish to thank all the town employees and officers for their understanding, cooperation and assistance throughout the year.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF VETERANS' SERVICES

December 31, 1970

The Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
East Weymouth, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

I wish to submit to your Board our Annual Report for the year ending December 31, 1970.

This department has experienced a very busy year, and in addition to the handling of Veterans' Benefits for the town we have processed a large number of pension applications for widows and veterans plus miscellaneous problems associated with the Federal branch of our program. We have available in our office many of the Federal forms and are in a position to give assistance on same when requested. We also follow through with the Veterans Administration when there is a problem associated with subsistence allowances, pension payments, etc. This service saves the veteran a trip to the JFK Federal Building in Boston on many occasions. The only Federal contact service available in this area at this time is in Quincy Post Office building on the first and third Tuesday of each month. A contact representative visits on these days in order to assist veterans with problems which are causing them concern.

Our expenditures for Veterans' Benefits were much higher than during past years, and it was necessary to secure additional funds last fall in order to take care of our payrolls and warrants for the year. This increase is due to the ever-increasing rate of unemployment and at this time seems to be getting heavier. We are having applications daily due to lay-offs and lack of work.

Medical costs are very high, and each year the rates for hospitals and nursing homes are increased. When there is an increase in nursing home rates they usually go back to the first of the year which means quite a sizeable retroactive payment in each case. These rates are established by the Rate Setting Commission of the Commonwealth and we are officially notified when the new rates are established.

The monthly payment for Medicare recipients has increased also this year. This department pays this monthly charge for all those on our rolls 65 years of age or over.

Once again I wish to thank your Board and other Town departments for the continued cooperation and courtesy extended to us during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

LOUISE TAYLOR, Director
Department of Veterans' Services

During the year of 1970 some 1400 elderly persons in Weymouth have received help through the office of the Weymouth Council on Aging.

Information requested included: Housing, Tax Abatement, Legal Advise, Transportation, Bills and Finances, Housekeepers, Part time work and Shopping. In most instances we were able to supply the desired information.

Other activities included an exhibition of handiwork and hobbies of elderly citizens, which were displayed for one week in the Town Libraries.

A Council sponsored picnic at Weston Park was well attended, refreshments and prizes were provided, also a Sunday Afternoon Musicale was given at Tuft's Library by Marion Carpenter.

Seventy-nine Ambulatory Patients from Weymouth Nursing Homes were taken by bus on a foliage trip. On Valentines Day each patient in a Weymouth Nursing Home found a Valentine from the Council on their breakfast tray.

Four day-time sewing classes were sponsored jointly with the Weymouth Public Schools. Seventy-eight attended and were responsible for the completion of two hundred six garments, at the request of the Weymouth Red Cross three hundred fifty Ditto Bags were made by the ladies of the sewing classes, which were filled at Christmas and distributed to our Veterans in the hospitals.

The Council on Aging hopes to increase its activities during the coming year. We wish to Thank all those who in anyway contributed to the success of 1970.

REPORT OF THE HISTORICAL COMMISSION

January 18, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
75 Middle Street
East Weymouth, Massachusetts 02189

Gentlemen:

Herewith submitted is the "ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WEYMOUTH HISTORICAL COMMISSION" for 1970.

Development of the Exhibit Room in the Tuft's Library continued as the main project of the Historical Commission during 1970. Due to unforeseen delays work on the project was at a somewhat slower pace than anticipated. The diorama housing the Dugout canoe should be completed by April. Similarly the murals being done by the Weymouth High School Art Department under the immediate supervision of Mr. Stephen Chop are progressing with an early Spring 1971 target date for completion.

Thanks to the tireless efforts of a dedicated group of citizens, Weymouth was represented in Plymouth's 350th Anniversary parade by a beautiful float depicting the Abigail Adams birthplace. Weymouth is indeed indebted to Mr. & Mrs. David Murley, Mr. & Mrs. Richard Murley, Mr. & Mrs. Peter Brown, Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Turner and Mr. & Mrs. James Moore who were responsible for Weymouth's participation in the celebration.

Under the direction of Dr. George Horner, Anthropologist and Archeologist of Eastern Nazarene College, the Historical Commission sponsored an "Archeological dig" along the shores of Great Pond to try and locate possible sites of Indian camps. Two test sites were dug but no positive evidence was found. Further "digs" are planned.

Tentative plans for observance of Weymouth's 350th Anniversary are being formulated. The Historical Commission will work with the Selectmen and various Civic organizations to develop a program fitting for this historic occasion.

REPORT OF THE WEYMOUTH SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of Weymouth:

The year just concluded has proved to be a land-mark year for education in the Town of Weymouth. Several long-range programs have come to fruition with the opening of a second high school in September, a major addition to the William Seach Elementary School, and a Child Care and Development Training School constructed by the Vocational-Technical High School students as part of a program unique both in the state and in the nation.

Other building programs moved rapidly toward completion with Town Meeting approval and start of construction of the Union Street Elementary School in South Weymouth and the Wessagusset Elementary School in North Weymouth.

Finally, careful consideration is now under way to determine the most efficient manner of implementing the state-mandated kindergarten and elementary hot lunch programs required by state law no later than September of 1973.

Although the year has been marked by unusual activity in the building program, concern for people and classroom activities remains uppermost in the minds of the Committee. The implementation of a completely re-worked program of studies has been accomplished at the high school level. This program features an elective, upgraded, and greatly expanded offering by means of which a student can tailor a course to his needs and strengths.

Convinced of the need and success of current programs, the Committee authorized an expansion of the Special Education program, the program for the perceptually handicapped, the secondary guidance services, and the health education program in the drug area. The Committee also instituted a program of adjustment counseling at the elementary level and organized all supplemental pupil services into a team approach in all four areas of the town.

These and many other strides taken during the past year by your School Committee have been accomplished only with the dedicated and active support of the citizens of the town. In return, the Committee has sought to reach decisions only after full consideration of the financial implications of its actions. The growth of the Weymouth Public Schools as reflected in the ever-increasing enrollment figures, the need for additional facilities and the personnel to staff these buildings, in the up-dating of educational programs and equipment, has placed an increased burden on the tax payer. Decisions of a budgetary nature have been made only after a long, hard look at the needs of our children and after a need was clearly established.

The degree to which a responsible and prudent attitude toward the establishment of a working budget can affect the tax-payer's burden can be most clearly seen in the average cost per pupil. Weymouth ($614) continues well below the state average ($756) as the Committee seeks to achieve maximum return for each dollar invested in the educational process.

In concluding this report, the School Committee takes great pleasure in commending the Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Leon H. Farrin, and his staff of loyal associates for their loyal and dedicated efforts in making the year 1970 one to be remembered as an efficient, progressive, and pleasant administration. Weymouth is indeed fortunate in having such an "excellent team" of administrators.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Weymouth School Committee and the Citizens of Weymouth:

I respectfully submit my fifth annual report as Superintendent of Schools of the Town of Weymouth.

The 1970's began with a year of extraordinary progress in the Weymouth Public Schools. Unprecedented changes took place in curriculum, personnel, facilities, and communications.

With the opening of the 1500-student South High School, Weymouth became a two high school system. The transition was remarkably smooth because of the careful planning, organization, and cooperation of many people. The thousands of citizens who attended the dedication and open house on November 15 learned why the students and staff at South High School are so enthusiastic about their new school.

A week later, an open house was held at the Seach Elementary School. The large addition to this building was also occupied in September. It was indeed fortunate that these two buildings opened on schedule. An already overcrowded situation had been further complicated by the closing of the Immaculate Conception Parochial School and the occupation of 150 new housing units at the South Weymouth Naval Air Station.

The scheduled opening of the Union Street Elementary School in September 1971 and the Wessagusset Elementary School early in 1972 will help to keep pace with a growing enrollment.

Consultants and study committees have been appointed to plan for kindergarten classes and elementary school lunch programs, both of which have been mandated by the State for 1973.

The Child Care Training Center also began operation in September 1970. This unique facility provides vocational training for girls. The building was constructed by students of the Weymouth Vocational-Technical High School and is considered to be the first school of its type in the nation. Regional television and nationwide publicity have been accorded this new school which trains girls to be kindergarten and nursery school aides. The program is also affiliated with the South Shore Hospital.

The most exciting curriculum change was at the high school level. The number of course offerings was doubled; subject matter was made more relevant and flexible. Grade level barriers and rigid course tracks were eliminated so that all students can select courses that meet individual needs, interests, and abilities.

The appointment of a Director of Supplementary Pupil Services has provided leadership and coordination of special education, home teaching, nursing, speech, hearing, perceptually handicapped, emotionally disturbed, psychological, adjustment counseling and other special services for boys and girls with special needs.

The appointment of a full time assistant to the Coordinator of Health Education has expanded and intensified the school system's drug abuse program.

An Elementary Science Coordinator has helped to update teaching and learning in that critical area.

The Staff Newsletter became a twice monthly publication and has served to improve communications between administration and staff. The School Voice was issued periodically to citizens of the Town to keep them abreast of changes in the school system. News releases were issued on all significant events. A monthly School Voice program on radio station WJDA brought news and views of the Weymouth Schools to all citizens of the area.

New work-study programs have been designed to keep students in school as long as they are able to profit from instruction, while at the same time giving them experience in the world of work.

The creation of a Student School Committee Advisory Committee has served to give students a voice in policy making.

The present School Committee has shown unusual insight into the educational needs of the community. The cooperation of administration and staff, students and citizens has helped to move the school system ahead on many fronts.

Our philosophy has not been one of change for change's sake. The many innovations that have taken place were carefully researched and incorporated into the school system only when they showed promise of improving the educational program for boys and girls.

The reports that follow touch upon some of the highlights of the past school year. We would be pleased to provide additional information to any citizen who is interested in a specific program, policy, or procedure.

Respectfully submitted,

LEON H. FARRIN
Superintendent of Schools

PERSONNEL AND CURRICULUM

William J. Longridge, Jr.; Associate Superintendent

I respectfully submit my second annual report as Associate Superintendent of Schools, my fourth with primary responsibility for personnel and curriculum.

Any review of the year's activities in these two areas must begin with the opening of South High School on schedule in September. This single fact, when combined with the opening of the fourteen room addition to the Seach School and an enrollment increase throughout the system of almost six hundred students, resulted in (a) the addition of ninety staff members to the system, (b) the opportunity, finally, to implement a modern high school program which had been delayed pending completion of the facilities at South High and the subsequent relocation of many junior high school students. The year, then, focused on these two major opportunities for dramatic strides forward.

I. PERSONNEL RECRUITMENT

The rapid growth in the number of certified candidates for teaching positions has continued. Almost thirty-five hundred applications were received and processed by this office. To fill the record one hundred and seventy-one openings (ninety new positions and eighty-one replacements), twelve hundred interviews were conducted, more than seven thousand individual references were contacted, and one hundred observations were made of experienced candidates and student teachers.

This number represents an increase from 972 applications in 1967 to 1437 (1968) to 2462 (1969) to 3474 (1970) – an increase in just three years of 389%. At least two factors contribute to this dramatic increase: (1) the number of qualified graduates being produced by teacher-training institutions, (2) active solicitation of these institutions in the form of representatives and/or literature describing the educational philosophy, characteristics, and opportunities available in the Weymouth Public Schools. Twenty-three colleges and universities were visited last year, during which visits hundreds of interviews were held.

A summary of the characteristics of the one hundred and seventy-one new staff members selected from the thirty-five hundred applicants provides the following information:

1. Forty-five appointments were made at the elementary level, ninety-seven at the secondary level, and twenty-seven in the area of supplementary pupil services.
2. Seventy-one colleges and universities were represented by the successful candidates, ranging from the University of Maine to the University of California at Los Angeles; from American International to William and Mary; from Bridgewater (Massachusetts) State College to Nice (France) University.
3. Thirty-eight of the new staff members held master's degree or higher.
4. Ninety-seven of the 171 (57%) new staff members were experienced; this group possessed a total of 426 combined years of teaching experience.
5. Sixty-two male and 109 female teachers were appointed.
6. Sixty residents of Weymouth, 101 Massachusetts residents (other than Weymouth), and 10 out-of-state residents were selected.
7. The average age of the new appointees was 26.9 years.

It is interesting to note that, to the best of available knowledge, only two of the eighty-one replacement vacancies were created by teachers leaving for the sole reason of taking teaching positions in nearby communities.

The replacement rate (12.9%) is almost identical with that of last year (12.8%) and continues to average less than 2/3 the state average.

Teacher selection procedures have now been formalized so that a three-part interview process is commonly utilized. In addition to central office interviews, candidates under serious consideration are interviewed by department heads and building principals at the secondary level, by the Director of Instruction and building principals at the elementary level.

The purpose of this procedure is two-fold: (1) the specific staff strengths sought by department heads or principals can be more adequately evaluated, (2) the candidate is afforded both the opportunity to see more of the system in terms of facilities and supervisory personnel and to become aware of the characteristics of the system, the specific curriculum, the supervisory personnel, and normal building operational procedures. Final selection, therefore, becomes a cooperative venture of the three individuals involved.

II. GENERAL SUPERVISION

At both the elementary and secondary levels, a planned program of classroom visitation, supervision, and evaluation is now fully operational. All supervisory visitations are followed by teacher-supervisor conferences stressing both strengths and weaknesses observed. Under the supervision of the Director of Instruction for the Elementary Grades, teams of principals visit all candidates for re-election. These visits, in addition to those of the Director of Instruction and the individual building principal, are followed both by conferences and written reports.

The same evaluation procedure is followed at the secondary level with department heads and building principals making regularly-scheduled observation reports and conferences with all teachers. The written reports which stem from these visitations form the basis of the teacher-supervisor conferences.

III. CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

The reports of the Director of Instruction for the Elementary Program, the Director of Supplementary Pupil Services, and the Director of the Vocational-Technical High School outline in detail the changes in their respective areas. This report, therefore, shall deal only with the secondary program of studies.

The opening of South High School in September of 1970 permitted the implementation of an elective program of studies. This program, under development since 1960, was described fully in the last annual report. The program is characterized by three qualities: flexibility, relevancy, and suitability. First, its flexibility permits each student to design an individualized program; second, the expanded number of courses, many of which are semester in length, has permitted an up-dating of courses and a far greater freedom to insert and withdraw both courses and materials as dictated by changing times and the requirements of industry and post-secondary education; third, the elimination of artificial barriers in the three-track (college, business, and general) program has allowed the student freedom of course selection unknown in the past and has allowed him to examine single courses for their value to him and to create an individual program built on his strengths and interests.

It must be recognized that sweeping changes of this type must be carefully planned and considered. The machinery for this consideration has been the summer curriculum workshop. In final preparation for the implementation of the new program of studies, a record number of teachers and administrators wrote new courses of study, examined texts and materials, organized equipment and supplies, and paved the way for integrating an unusually large number of new staff members, and attending to the myriad of details related to these changes.

Along with a completely new program – new in philosophy and more than twice the breadth of offering – has come the utilization of computer scheduling. Made necessary by the expansion of course offerings as well as the rapid increase in enrollment, computer scheduling has permitted a range of scheduling and leveling of student ability to a degree unheard of under hand scheduling. Without computer scheduling, a program such as that now available to all students at the high school level would be impossible.

Realizing the impact of (1) a new high school, (2) a new and dramatically different course of studies, and (3) utilization for the first time of a computer-scheduled program, the ease and smoothness with which these three innovations were implemented testify to the effort and capability of many people. To the teachers who labored long in the writing of the new courses and the re-writing of the old, to the department heads who organized the labors within their departments and gave the leadership necessary to the success of such a venture, to the principals who worked through the problems of both a new program and a new scheduling device, to a Superintendent and to a School Committee who provided the support and encouragement vital to the success of this project, I wish to offer my profound appreciation. Perhaps more important, the students who have acclaimed this program – and those who will follow – express their appreciation.

THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Helen C. McGovern, Director of Instruction

The program of the elementary schools continues to show the results of the sincere efforts of teachers, principals, and specialists to provide the best possible instruction for each child.

Teachers have participated in the planning and execution of several new programs. During the summer, committees of teachers worked in two curriculum areas. One committee developed a manual of suggestions for oral and written composition which is being used in all fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. A second committee finished the fourth grade social studies manual and completed action on recommendations for changes in the social studies program on all grade levels.

Other teachers have participated in a program of re-grouping third grade classes for specialized instruction in reading, language arts, and mathematics. In one first grade class a teacher is using a new approach to the teaching of mathematics; in several other first grades, a new phonics approach is being used.

Principals

For the past few years, educational practices, procedures, and innovative experimentation have been changing with amazing rapidity. So quickly have these changes occurred that it is difficult for an individual principal to keep abreast of all the latest trends. In an effort to keep up to date, committees of principals have been established to investigate current programs.

Currently the elementary principals' committees are doing research in four areas. One group is investigating substitute teacher and teacher trainee procedures; another is researching ways of reporting to students and/or parents. The third group of principals is studying various methods of grouping and/or teaching the academically talented child. The last committee is evaluating kindergarten programs through observation of long-established and newly-established programs in various communities.

Progress reports from the various committees form the basis for discussion at the monthly elementary principals' meetings. In addition, the information gathered by the principals will be shared with teacher committees who will be working in these same areas.

Specialists

The reading teachers continue to offer their special services to those children who need and will profit from their help. Each child has made progress – some more than others. Every effort has been made to coordinate the efforts of the special services – reading, tutors of perceptually handicapped, speech therapists – with those of the classroom teachers. Through the cooperation of all services, each child has been helped to perform to his highest potential.

This year the position of elementary science specialist was established. The science specialist is responsible for implementing the science curriculum which was developed by a committee of teachers during a series of summer institutes. This implementation will be carried out through selection of textbooks and materials, through conducting in-service workshops, and through a continuous evaluation of the present outline of study.

Throughout the year grade level meetings have been held so that teachers may learn of the various new programs being conducted throughout the system. In addition, these meetings give teachers an opportunity to share ideas and to discuss areas of mutual concern. The meetings have proven to be of great value to all – teachers, principals, and specialists.

WEYMOUTH NORTH HIGH SCHOOL

William T. Kearns, Principal

The opening of South High School has eased the crowded conditions at North High School considerably. To a greater degree, the new curriculum appears to be providing for individual differences and the needs of the student body. Relevancy of course material has provided for a more worthwhile educational atmosphere.

The Business Education Department has expanded the curriculum, which now includes eleven skill subjects and five academic business subjects. New course offerings include accounting, clerical office practice, business mathematics, and personal shorthand. The Summer Curriculum Institute developed courses of study for these subjects and instructional materials for course enrichment. The program of placement of graduating seniors in permanent positions has continued to prove successful. It is gratifying to note that many of our local businessmen have demonstrated confidence in our business training by employing inexperienced graduates. Through the program of Federal Civil Service training and examination, many graduates have been employed by the federal government.

The twenty-five course curriculum initiated by the English Department in September, 1970, has met with enthusiastic acceptance by both students and teachers. The opportunity to elect half-year courses within a specific area of need or interest plus a variety of approaches such as non-grading, small classes, interdisciplinary teaching, field trips, and seminars have provided a new sense of relevancy and dynamism.

Members of the staff are participating actively in numerous area conferences concerned with new techniques and emphases. School and area dramatic presentations, as well as a wide spectrum of school and community-oriented groups, find sponsors from among the English Department faculty.

Debate club, the school newspaper, the literary magazine, and the yearbook continue to win regional and national awards. The student column in a local newspaper affords realistic journalistic experience.

This year a Weymouth student won national recognition from the National Council of Teachers of English for his excellence in writing.

The Nursery School and Kindergarten Aide program is an occupational training course for junior and senior girls under the direction of the Home Economics Department to prepare girls to be nursery school or kindergarten aides.

The Child Care Training Center opened in September as part of the Nursery School and Kindergarten Aide Program. Senior girls enrolled in the program have completed a year of concentrated study in the areas of child development and children's activities such as arts, crafts, music, and literature. The senior girls in the program are now conducting activities in the nursery school, which is attended by 24 pre-school children from Weymouth.

Consumer education and home management courses were also added this year to the course offerings in the Home Economics Department.

Awards were presented to two girls for outstanding work in Home Economics — Martha Cipullo in the clothing area and Maria Dentino in the foods and nutrition area.

The Foreign Language Department offers five languages to all students: French, Spanish, Latin, German, and Russian. German is being offered for the first time this year. Introductory Chinese will be offered in 1971-1972 if there is sufficient student interest.

The Encyclopedia Britannica Spanish Program has now been adopted completely, and a full three-year course is offered, integrating the basic text with films and filmstrips.

The updated Russian course now consists of a new basic text this year by Professor Lipson of Harvard University.

Both the German and the Russian Courses are open to all students.

The Foreign Language Department awarded the Third Annual Book prizes in June to graduates for excellence in French, Spanish, Latin, and Russian. This year the Foreign Language Department is proudly sponsoring educational trips to France and Spain during the spring vacation.

Many more students are now studying a second or a third language. Nine hundred and eighteen students, or approximately 65% of the student population, are presently studying a foreign language.

This year marks the implementation for a new mathematics program. The courses have been tailored to meet the needs of the individual student and to enable him to enjoy success at his level of understanding.

Under the new program, students talented in mathematics may now elect two courses during the same year. Also, those students who are lacking in the fundamentals of mathematics or have special goals now have a choice available to them.

The mathematics laboratory program has been expanded with the addition of new computer devices. The response to this program, which is open to all students, has been most gratifying. The elements of basic programming are taught and then applied to mathematics and science.

During the past year the science curriculum has been made entirely elective and has been revised in several ways.

Most significant is the scheduling of first year biology six times a week with a double period for laboratory. This has resulted in an enrollment of about 450 students in the course and the employment of five teachers in biology full time. This has necessitated enlargement and alteration of the space assigned to biology teaching, along with increased demands for suitable equipment and supplies.

With the opening of South High School, the strain on science rooms and staff has been reduced to the extent that enrichment courses, now called seminars, in biology, chemistry, and physics can now be offered.

Other changes are the installation of an earth science program and the institution of a new physical science course called PS-II.

Most of the science teachers have participated in summer and in-service institutes. Our science program is strengthened by their efforts, particularly when the work they are doing is directly related to the curriculum development of the school.

A group of senior high students participated in the annual Student Government Exchange Program in cooperation with the State Department of Education in March. Weymouth was host to students from Jeremiah E. Burke High School in Boston, who spent a day studying and observing representative town government in Weymouth, the highlight of which was attendance at Town Meeting. Weymouth students were in turn hosted by J. E. Burke for an "on-the-spot" study and comparison of the Mayor-city council form of government.

The Social Studies Department conducted its fifth annual summer curriculum institute in July for the purpose of improving the instructional program. A humanities course of study was developed for use at the high school level. It is an interdisciplinary offering intended to provide students with a broader picture of trends in human thought as manifested in art, architecture, literature, music, and science. As an interdisciplinary offering, the institute consisted of social studies, English, and foreign language teachers who spent four weeks preparing an extensive curriculum guide.

This year the social studies department launched a completely revised and expanded program of studies. The program has been developed by teachers during the past four years. The curriculum for grades ten to twelve consists of ten elective courses and one required course in United States History. A variety of elective courses provides the student with the opportunity to pursue a program of sampling the various disciplines such as history, psychology, sociology, economics, government, and anthropology. If the student prefers, he may pursue a program of history only. Course offerings are included which were requested by students (Russian-Soviet Studies and Humanities), and some courses directly involved students in planning (i.e., Contemporary World Affairs and United States History).

Once again the excellent work undertaken by the Junior Moral and Spiritual Values Committee, combined with the cooperation of the entire student body and faculty, resulted in the Secondary School Principals' Association and the Bureau of Civic Education recognition of the school by giving the Citizenship-in-Action Award.

Constant evaluation of present course offerings and a search for other areas within the scope of various departments which meet student needs and interests will result in a curriculum for 1971-1972 larger in scope than presently offered. Testing results, college admissions, and employment offerings all indicate the soundness of the educational system.

In conclusion, may I express my appreciation to administration, staff, and students for their tremendous cooperation in the administrative transition at North High School. I shall endeavor to work for the improvement of the educational facilities.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL

Wilbur F. Stanton, Principal

The successful September opening of South High School depended upon and received the cooperation of many people. Approximately 125 teachers and other personnel have worked with approximately 1400 students to create an excellent relationship with each person, almost without exception, who accepted the challenge "to make this a better school simply because he is here." Under any other circumstances it would not be possible for our school to accomplish our goals.

In terms of co-curricular programs, we have seen the following groups organized to provide for the out-of-school needs of our students:

Activity and Calendar Committee	Junior Moral & Spiritual Values Committee
Book Store	Latin Club
Boys' Interscholastic Sports	Leaders' Corps
Campus Patrol	Library Aides
Cheerleading	Math Club
Chess Club	Modern Dance
Class Officers	National Thespian Association
Conservation Club	Operation Skywatch
Dramatic Society	Pep Club
Flying Club	Photography Club
French Club	Riding Club
Future Business Leaders	Ring Committee
German Club	Science Club
Girls' Athletic Association	Ski Club
Girls' Interscholastic Sports	Spanish Club
Gun Club	Yearbook

Our physical education program was severely hampered by construction problems in the beginning and then by the late arrival of equipment. Every student is enrolled in physical education unless medically excused. Those with disabilities need and deserve a corrective program. It is hoped that time and effort can be directed this way in the very near future, so that we may say in reality that every student is enjoying the benefits of a health-physical education program.

Athletically, the move separating the high school community has been good. Some may perhaps wish to criticize the move based on the win-loss record so far. However, if one is to consider the tremendous lift to school spirit, as well as the healthful benefits derived from more extensive participation, then it is obvious that this was an educationally sound position to take.

Weymouth South gives every appearance of being a happy school, and indeed this was a high priority objective in its organization. School spirit is high and the tremendous co-operation of staff and students in overcoming some of the problems to be expected in a new school is a singular tribute to each one of them.

The support and encouragement of the administration, the School Committee, and the public in general has been heartwarming indeed. It makes one pleased to have the opportunity to work with the folks in Weymouth.

Mention is made below of each department's activities including the preparation time necessary for the September opening.

In the Art Department, after a very busy Summer Institute which was used for making all the many plans for courses, writing programs of study, distributing equipment and supplies, the Art Department welcomed students to the beautiful new studios. Most of the equipment for the studios has arrived.

The following are some art projects and activities of the Art Program:

As a preliminary to working in silver, students in Advanced Art I worked out designs, and then turned out some handsome pieces of hand-crafted jewelry. Students in Advanced Art III did more advanced work in sterling silver. Eventually these craft students will be working in enameling, ceramics, weaving and many other fields.

The Art Department obtained a fine collection of large color prints reproducing masterpieces of art through history. These prints will be used in teaching history of art and art appreciation. A special display place where all the students will be able to study and enjoy these beautiful pictures is being developed.

One of the more successful projects for the first term was an outcome of the art history course in Advanced Art I. Here students were investigating the art of primitive people and thought it might be interesting to try to imitate some of their work with a consideration for the cultural attitudes and requirements which might have inspired it. Most of the students chose to do masks. These beautiful masks, done in many exciting materials and colors, were on display during the open house.

Art courses offered at South High School are Advanced Art 1, 2, 3; General Art 1, 2, 3; Design 1 (Fashion Design); and Design 2 (Home).

The Business Education Department's major objective is to provide each student with an opportunity to develop vocational skills, acceptable work habits, and sound concepts of modern business. The Town of Weymouth has provided Weymouth South High School with excellent facilities for achieving this objective.

The new school opened in September with an expanded business education curriculum. New offerings this year include business mathematics, clerical office practice, accounting, and personal shorthand. In addition to these subjects, the department offers vocational courses in typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office machines. Non-skill subjects include general business, business law, business math, and clerical office practice.

The equipment in the Office Machines Rooms is the type which is found in any modern business office. These machines include Rotary Calculators, Key-Driven Full Keyboard Machines, Ten-Key Printing Adding Machines, Transcription Machines, Duplicators, Key Punch, and Key Punch Simulators.

The department has an enrollment of approximately 400 students who may elect any of eleven skill subjects and eight academic business subjects. Through the cooperation of the guidance department and vocational advice from business teachers, students may elect a course specifically designed for secretarial, bookkeeping, or clerical employment. Training for Federal Civil Service Examinations is given to students in their senior year. These tests are administered by the Civil Service Commission at the school.

Placement of graduating seniors in permanent positions is an important function of the Business Department. Preliminary steps include preparing students for interviews, arranging for speakers from Boston and local offices, and making appointments for interviews.

The Business Education Department sponsors a Chapter of the National Future Business Leaders of America. This club engages in many activities of interest to business students. As a service activity for the school, senior stenographic and clerical typewriting students volunteer to serve as student secretaries for faculty members. These secretaries spend many hours working for the members of other departments. Accounting and Office Machine students are also active participants in the operation of the school bookstore.

The English Department wing of Weymouth South High School comprises eight classrooms (which enclose, in horseshoe fashion, a complex of interconnected rooms), a book and supply room, the English Office, the Office of the Department Chairman, and the English Project Room; this last, a multipurpose area, is equipped with carrels and a seminar area, lending itself to increased opportunities for the utilization of individualized techniques. Rooms 115 and 116 are Reading Laboratories.

The twenty-five course curriculum initiated by the English Department in September, 1970, has met with enthusiastic acceptance by both students and teachers. The opportunity to elect half-year courses within a specific area of need or interest and a variety of approaches such as non-grading, small classes, interdisciplinary teaching, field trips, and seminars have provided a new sense of relevancy and dynamism.

The centralized classroom arrangement has given impetus to many creative approaches, such as the "open classroom" and the "resource center."

Constant evaluation of present course offerings and a search for other areas in the study of English which meet student needs and interests will result in a curriculum for 1971-1972 larger in scope than that presently offered. In order to better guide students in selection of courses, the English Department, in November, 1970, administered the Nelson-Denny Reading Test to all students.

Action has begun on a school newspaper and the student column in a local newspaper (Journalism class) affords students realistic journalistic experience.

During the first semester, English classes from Weymouth South High made numerous field trips. Below is a list of the trips and the classes that attended:

Content of Trip	Class
Visit to U.S.S. Constitution	American Heritage
Visit to a production of the musical play, Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris	Public Speaking and Theater Arts, Creative Writing
Visit to the movie Ann of 1000 Days	British Literature
Visit to Boston Museum of Fine Arts, Classical Tour	Humanities
Tour of the Boston Globe	Journalism
Visit to the movie Julius Caesar	Shakespeare
Visit to the Museum of Science to view an exhibit of Gutenberg's printing press	Journalism

All Foreign Language Department classrooms at South High surround the central core service area, which consists of the Language Laboratory, the Tape Duplicating Room, the Storage Area, and the Foreign Language Office.

The language laboratory has all the newest improvements and facilities needed to make this aspect of foreign language learning a worthwhile experience. By use of cartridge booths, students are able to record and practice, by listening and speaking, specific material which they have been studying in the classroom.

The Foreign Language Department offers five languages for all students: French, Spanish, Latin, German, and Russian. German has been offered for the first time this year. If there is sufficient interest, the Department may offer introductory Chinese next year.

The Foreign Language Department courses are open to all students of South High. There are presently 903 language students at South High or approximately 65% of the total school population.

This year the Foreign Language Department is providing an opportunity for students to have educational trips to France and to Spain during the Spring vacation. There are also many extracurricular activities and clubs for all the languages. German students have formed a Soccer Club; the Latin Club has participated in chariot races; and Russian students have visited the only Russian Orthodox Church in the area.

The Home Economics Department facilities at South High include the following: a foods laboratory with five kitchens and a demonstration area; equipment for meal planning for food preparation and serving, and for teacher and student food demonstrations; areas for food storage, freezing and refrigeration. The clothing laboratory has sixteen sewing machines housed in stationary tables, large high cutting tables and storage space for garments under construction and completed. A laboratory for consumer education, home management, and nutrition with trapezoidal tables, demonstration area, ample storage space for the variety of equipment that it is necessary to store for these courses. A showcase has been provided for displaying projects from the department. A food service area for the boys in the Food Service class enables them to gain valuable experience managing and operating a small food service center. Office space has also been provided for the department.

Course offerings are clothing design, foods and nutrition, meal planning and food preparation, advanced foods, clothing II, clothing III tailoring, clothing IV advanced clothing, nutrition II, food services for boys, consumer education, and home management.

Also five girls from South High are enrolled in the Nursery School and Kindergarten Aide program which is an occupational training program housed at the Child Care Training Center.

A comprehensive Industrial Arts program was inaugurated at the high school level with the opening of South High School in September. This included not only technical drawing courses as offered previously at North High School, but also a shop program incorporating the most advanced curriculum developments in this field.

The objectives of this program are to provide understandings, skills, and attitudes necessary for living in our industrial-oriented society. The curriculum is planned to satisfy the needs of students preparing to seek employment in the industrial world upon completion of high school, as well as those going on to further education and careers in engineering or science.

The Industrial Arts Department is sponsoring two after-school programs, Experimental Shop and a Flying Club.

The Experimental Shop uses the facilities of the Laboratory of Industry, and is open to all students with special projects to build, either on an individual or group basis. Students not taking industrial arts receive necessary instruction in the use of tools and equipment needed for the project they are undertaking. The Laboratory is available and supervised for this activity from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m., four to five afternoons a week during the entire school year. Co-operation with other departments is encouraged.

The major group project under construction is a 16 inch diameter reflecting telescope for astronomical use. This is probably a two-year program. In the period September - December 1970, a prototype mirror grinding machine has been built, and design studies initiated for the optical system, the mechanical mounting, and an observatory.

The Flying Club has about 20 members who are interested in flying. A ground school course has been started for them with classes one afternoon a week. It is being taught by Mr. Paul Babcock of the Industrial Arts Department, who is a commercial pilot and a qualified instructor. It includes basic aeronautics, navigation, FAA regulations, etc. Upon completion the members will be prepared to take the FAA examination.

The Mathematics Department wing of the new South High School features a computer laboratory as its focal point. Here, the crystallization of ideas which germinate in the classroom takes place, and the final solution of proposed problems occurs in the form of sophisticated programs. Students with the modern tools of a computer age are better able to realize their mathematical creativity.

Encompassing this area are seven classrooms specifically designed to promote the learning of mathematics. Several of these rooms may be subdivided so that students may engage in enrichment or remedial activity.

To complement our new facilities is a new multi-level mathematics curriculum designed to meet the varying needs of the students. One goal of the new curriculum is to enable each student to select a mathematics program which is best geared to his particular pace of learning.

If a student is mathematically talented and highly motivated in this discipline, he may select the advanced placement sequence. This sequence culminates in the study of Calculus and possible college credit. The main stream sequence is designed for those students who are proficient in mathematics and inclined toward a career in engineering or the sciences. Those students who wish to fulfill the entrance requirements of most colleges and are not mathematically orientated may enroll in a modified sequence. In addition to the above sequences, courses which provide enrichment and a review in fundamentals are also offered.

The Science Department at Weymouth South High School includes six classroom-laboratories, two standard classrooms, a science lecture room, a project room, a photographic darkroom, a teachers' center, and eight preparation-storage spaces.

The Science Lecture Room has ninety seats tiered-up, amphitheater style. Teachers schedule joint movie showings, club meetings, and the like here. This facility allows combining of several classes, certainly a gain in flexibility.

Our science facilities are to a large extent teacher planned. The science teachers at North High School visited other schools, sketched layouts, discussed details with administrators and architects during the long period that the details of South High were being developed. The results of this effort are science rooms which are functional, flexible, and rather conventional. They have, in addition, an attractive decor which gives them a warm, homelike appearance.

To a large degree the educational philosophy of the school dictates the type of facility. Thus, the classroom-laboratory format which is evident in the Science Department at South High School is an expression of our belief that the student-activity type of lesson will be and should be carried on frequently. Whenever the teacher thinks that having his students carry out some experiment will serve their best interests, he should find it possible and convenient to do so.

A final thought about the science facilities at South High School concerns the site on which the school is located. The biology teachers were quick to recognize the educational potential of our typically New England surroundings. We are blessed with a stand of pines, an acre or so of marsh bordering a small stream, a small pond and assorted outcroppings of ledge with scrub overlay. Biology students have utilized these natural classrooms often.

The science program at South High School is entirely elective. The first courses in biology, earth science, chemistry, and physics are of a standard type with emphasis on an investigative approach.

Seminars in biology, chemistry, and physics, which are open to students with special interests in these fields, provide an informal relationship between teachers and highly motivated pupils. Such an arrangement benefits students and teachers alike. Field trips to universities, industries, and scientific meetings are beneficial to future scientists and are readily organized in connection with science seminars.

In the immediate future, we hope to expand our offerings in science. An experimental sequence in physical science was begun this year. One section of specially selected sophomores is being taught a new course in physical science, called PS-II. We hope to schedule these youngsters in physics in grade 11, followed by chemistry in grade 12.

In addition, we expect to develop full year and semester courses in advanced or special fields of biology; for example, Comparative Anatomy, Bio-chemistry, Physiology, Conservation, Ecology. These would be open to students who have successfully completed the first course in Biology.

We hope to modify and augment the courses in Earth Science in a similar way, providing one semester courses on special topics such as astronomy, oceanography, pollution, geology, meteorology, and presenting these in a way that makes use of fundamental principles drawn from physics, chemistry, and biology. The basic courses earth science 11 and 12 will be retained for students whose science background is not strong.

The Social Studies Department began the year with considerable enthusiasm in view of the new building and a revised and expanded curriculum. The new facilities consist of eight classrooms, a projects room and an office complex providing space for teacher planning and the storage of materials. Four of the classrooms may be divided to provide small group instruction. The availability of a Projects Room provides the opportunity for a variety of activities. The room is equipped with a resource library and study carrels for independent research and seating arrangements for group presentations, such as panel discussions and symposiums.

The curriculum of the department consists of ten elective courses and one required course in United States History. A variety of elective courses provides the students with the opportunity to pursue a program of sampling the various disciplines such as history, psychology, sociology, economics, government, and anthropology. Or, if the student prefers, he may pursue a program of history only. Some 1,262 students are enrolled in social studies courses representing a high percentage of the total enrollment. In addition, many students are taking more than one social studies course. Course offerings are included which were requested by students (Russian-Soviet Studies and Humanities), and in two cases course of study development directly involved students in planning (Contemporary World Affairs and United States History).

The fact that this was an election year presented an excellent opportunity for the department to involve students in a practical application of lessons studied in the classroom. Following an intensive study of the 1970 political campaign and election process, students proceeded to organize and direct a "Candidates Day." Late in October letters were sent out, inviting candidates for public office to debate and answer questions before student audiences. A large number of candidates, from county officers to aspirants for Congress, appeared to participate in an all-day program held in the auditorium. As a result of the debates, statements, and answers to questions by the candidates, students became more interested in and gained new enthusiasm for the political process. This program was followed by a "mock election" held on election day, November 3rd. The Projects Room was set up as a polling place with the appropriate checklists and a ballot box courtesy of the Town Clerk. Room 123 was established as "election central" with the counting and tabulation of voting results continuing throughout the day. The "election" enabled students to practice the voting procedures they will soon perform as newly-registered eighteen year old voters.

An innovative teaching procedure has been utilized by the department this year with great success. The cooperative teaching program involves the combination of several staff members, several classes and multimedia materials to provide large group, small group, and individualized instruction. In the first program five teachers, including a student teacher, combined efforts to instruct about one hundred and fifty students from three classes. After an orientation lecture, students were assigned to independent research or groups for supervised research projects. Large group instruction took the form of lectures delivered by the participating staff members. The lectures were tape recorded or video-taped for use by absent students to make up work missed or by students who wish to replay the lectures. Also provided for the students are films, filmstrips, and primary sources. The program enables the department to utilize teaching personnel with varied backgrounds more effectively, enables the student to engage in large and small group instruction, further develop research techniques and permits students to proceed independently or to receive special assistance. The success of the first program has encouraged the department to move on to a second project. Plans call for expanding the program to include other areas, involving the assistance of other departments and utilizing outside resource people.

WEYMOUTH VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

John F. Collins, Director

The past accomplishments of the Weymouth Vocational Technical High School have been numerous with direct benefits to its graduates and to the town. Using this record of success as a foundation, a Vocational Technical Needs Study Committee has been approved by the School Committee to investigate possible new course offerings for the boys and girls of Weymouth. Current courses are being updated with emphasis on the technologies of the Seventies.

A one year pilot program was conducted in Cooperative Courses for Auto Body and Structural Design students. This is a state regulated program in which seniors who qualified in scholastic achievement, good attendance, and school citizenship were allowed to work at their trade in companies which entered into an agreement with the State Department of Education. Regulations require that students must follow an approved course of study to insure that they receive a well rounded skill training. Participating students were paid at the same rate as other employees with similar qualifications. The instructors and advisory board feel that the program was highly successful and have recommended that this form of education not only be continued but also be expanded.

Another Weymouth educational highlight was the opening of the Child Care Center for the training of junior and senior girls as nursery school and kindergarten aides. Under the supervision of Miss Mary Kenny and Mrs. Andrea Forbes, an actual nursery school is conducted mornings for approximately 15 preschool youngsters. The senior girls act as instructors, and the junior girls observe and evaluate. By the time the girls have completed their two year course, they will be familiar with all aspects of conducting a nursery school. Last year the girls were assigned to several first grade classrooms where they received on-the-job experience as aides. From the enthusiastic reports of the teachers and principals, the aides did a superior job. Their success demonstrates what vocational technical education can accomplish: a practical, first-hand application of education relevant to the needs of students and the world of work.

One of the most extensive training ventures ever undertaken by the Vocational Technical students has been the construction of this Child Care Center. Designed in Colonial style, it is a single story building, 38 x 60 feet with a walk-out basement. So well does it blend with the neighborhood that at first glance one does not realize that it is really a school. One State Public Safety Inspector stated, "This is one of the finest construction jobs I have ever seen."

Practically every department was involved in construction: the Architectural Department worked on plans and specifications; the Structural Design students established the boundaries and building location through their knowledge of surveying; the Carpentry students did the actual construction from the foundation walls to shingling; the Sheet Metal Department fabricated and installed the heating and ventilating system; the Cabinetmaking Department manufactured much of the juvenile furniture, storage cabinets, desks and build-ins; the Electronics Department installed a sound system to assist students observing from behind one-way glass with their evaluation of the lesson being presented; and the girls of the Home Economics classes made the drapes and many decor appointments. Practical training on projects such as this makes our graduates much sought after by industry.

Much of a child's time at the Child-Care Center is spent in individualized instruction.

In other areas of instruction, the Auto Body Department completed 176 jobs. In the Auto Repair Department 446 malfunctioning cars were repaired.

To better meet the skill needs of those students selecting the wood-working field, a change was made in the Cabinetmaking and Carpentry Departments. Over the past years these were separate departments. Due to technological changes, however, skills and job opportunities have changed. Both departments have merged and are called Construction Technology. Students will learn additional construction skills as well as mill carpentry and installation features. Currently the Construction Technology Department is building a large split-entry ranch style home for Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaRocco on Marks Road, East Weymouth. The house consists of a large living room, dining room, family room, kitchen with dining space, three bedrooms and two bathrooms on the first floor, and a large recreation room, office, laundry, half bath and garage on the lower level. Plans for next year's home for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roy are now being prepared in the Drafting Department.

The Electronics Department provides diversified instruction in the form of laboratory experiments and experiences with some practical applications. Use of electronic testing equipment, circuit construction, and maintenance checking prepares a student in basic electronics.

Nearly all of the Weymouth School System's printing is produced in the Graphic Arts Department. This year 412 jobs were produced, ranging from brochures to report cards, from school magazines to instructional aides.

This past year the Sheet Metal Department completed 274 jobs in heating and ventilating, ornamental iron work, welding, duct fabrication and installation.

The Structural Design and Structural Drafting program prepared working blue prints of many types of construction, remodeling and expansion projects, including possible classroom expansion at Weymouth North. This course is highly technical, and students are well received by engineering firms for the knowledge they possess.

The academic program of the school is identical to the basic courses taught at the secondary level in Weymouth regardless of what course is selected. Academic courses are also relevant to the needs of students as they complement the skill training received.

Field trips are important to skill training, for students are able to observe first hand the application of their skills and new techniques that industry is developing. This year the Auto Body class visited the Automobile Show at Suffolk Downs and observed new construction methods. The cabinet-making section of Construction Technology visited the William B. Curry Woodworking Company in Charlestown and watched the assembly of furniture and office fixtures. Module construction and prefabrication of houses was observed by the Construction Technology students as they toured a plant in Marshfield. Structural Drafting and Design students visited new homes and plants under construction to become aware of new designs and structural innovations. The Nursery School and Kindergarten Aides visited WHDH-TV and observed the Romper Room production and discussed nursery school activities with the producer. Production methods were observed by Sheet Metal students as they visited the Limbach Company in Medford. Electronic students visited the NEREM show held in Boston and observed new advances in technology.

Students of the Nursery School and Kindergarten Aide program participated in a three day exhibition sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Education held at the Boston City Hall. A slide presentation of their program and display booth manned by students was featured.

The annual Open House was held on Thursday, May 7, 1970, as an opportunity for the people of Weymouth to observe the school in action. Shops were operating, and products manufactured by the students were on display. The Child Care Center was visited by hundreds of people.

A Manpower Development Training Act program (M.D.T.A.) was conducted by the Electronics Department. Nine students graduated in August as electronic mechanics. The Federal Government underwrote the entire cost of the program. The class met six hours each day at the conclusion of the regular school day and ran for 1,250 hours over a forty-two week period.

Trade Extension evening school classes were conducted in the following trades: Apprentice Carpentry, Blue Print Reading, Auto Repair, Engine Tune-up, Offset Lithography and Welding. There were 93 enrolled.

ART DEPARTMENT – Philip S. Dolan, Director

Art Education in Weymouth is alive and doing well. The increase in art courses offered at the high school level and the many exhibitions of children's art work throughout the town are proof of its health. Some of the highlights of Art Department activities for 1970 are given below.

Once again the Director of Art served on the Advisory and Preliminary Screening Committee of the Regional Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition in Boston. This yearly event is sponsored by the Boston Globe regionally and by Scholastic Magazine nationally.

The following awards were won by Weymouth senior high and junior high art students:

High School: A national winner of a scholarship to the School of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston; Four Blue Ribbon winners also won the Scholastic Gold Key; Eight Gold Keys; Seventeen Awards of Merit.

East Junior High and Annex: One Gold Key; Eight Awards of Merit.

Central Junior High: Three Gold Keys; One Award of Merit.

South Junior High: Two Awards of Merit.

The Director of Art was chosen as one of the out-of-state Art Educators to act as a final judge for the Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition in Providence, Rhode Island. This proved to be a very worthwhile and rewarding experience as well as a good opportunity to compare what another state and its various school systems are doing in Art Education. Weymouth compared most favorably.

Weymouth was honored to have several multi-colored block prints from the elementary classes, and black and white block prints from Central Junior High School chosen for the National Exhibition of Graphic Arts sponsored by the Eastern Regional and the National Art Education Association. These same pieces of work were also part of an art exhibition at the Spring Conference of the Massachusetts Art Education Association held in New Bedford.

Once again, Weymouth was one of ten school systems chosen to exhibit at the Scholastic Art Expo at the South Shore Shopping Plaza in Braintree. This is always a well-attended three-day exhibition. Weymouth's exhibition was comprehensive and showed work in a wide variety of media from all levels of instruction. The exhibition was hung by the Elementary Art teachers and the Director. Almost every art teacher in the system served as a guide during the entire exhibition. They reported very favorable comments and a sincere interest by the many thousands of people who saw the show.

The Director acted as one of three judges for the Annual Art Exhibition of the Harwichport Junior and Senior High School on the Cape.

It must be noted that exhibitions of student art work are on-going and ever-changing in all our schools. Beyond that, elementary students yearly do art projects for the "Keep Weymouth Clean" campaign. Also, there is a monthly change of school art work, again representing all levels, at both the main Tufts Library and the School Administration Building.

During the summer two Institutes were held. One was used to update existing art offerings in the high school as well as to plan a major art course for sophomores. A totally revised and comprehensive course in art history, which is part of all advanced art courses, was accomplished.

The second Institute, held in August, was used to ready the arts and the crafts rooms for the new Weymouth South High School's opening in September.

At a fall meeting of the Weymouth Art Association, art students from North High School demonstrated various arts and crafts that are taught in advanced art courses.

Students from South Junior High School and St. Francis School participated in the Annual South Weymouth Halloween Window Painting Contest. The School Art Department has always helped in this worthwhile endeavor, and in the early days of this event, helped formulate the rules and regulations in keeping with the goals of contemporary art education. The business community of South Weymouth, which sponsors this event, is to be commended for maintaining high art standards. We greatly appreciate their providing the youth of the community with a means of using their natural creative instincts in a positive way.

Senior advanced art students at South High School planned and created full scale working drawings for a twelve by eighteen foot applique tapestry for the school foyer. The tapestry depicts the major advances of men from cave days to the space age and is entitled "Man Is the Measure of All Things." Funds must be raised to buy the necessary materials for making the tapestry a reality.

We hope in the future to revise the junior high art program. For instance, we would like to have the seventh grade art course be a basic arts course that would complement studio work, with cultural awareness taught through art, history and art appreciation with great use made of audio-visual aids. Many students in the eighth and ninth grades are interested in "making things" – working with their hands; therefore, more crafts and courses in sculpture must be introduced into the curriculum. Those who show unusual interest and aptitude in drawing, painting and graphic arts should be able to take such special courses.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT – Paul A. Warren, Director

The instructional program in music has undergone some significant changes with the transition from one to two high schools. An expansion of the curriculum makes possible a sequence of music course offerings in both high schools. Present indications are encouraging, but it is still too early to evaluate this expanded program fully. It is apparent, however, that a problem exists at the ninth grade level in that an elective course in music is not offered in each junior high school. It is important that an elective course other than chorus, orchestra, or band be made available to every ninth grade student.

Enrollment and participation in the Instrumental Music Program was indicative of the high degree of interest and support of the community in this area of instruction. Beginning students, as well as those who were continuing with their study, found opportunity to work together in learning situations as well as to play for enjoyment. Many played in their own school band or ensemble; in the All-Town Orchestra or Band; at the Solo and Ensemble Festival; in the P.T.A. program or Exchange Concert; in seasonal or other special programs. Many high school students had the experience of auditioning and performing at District, All-State and New England school music events.

Performing groups, both vocal and instrumental, accepted invitations from civic organizations, nursing homes, service clubs, and churches to provide special music throughout the year. These were in addition to the regularly scheduled performances within each school.

The 12th Annual Solo & Ensemble Festival was held in February with nearly 400 students participating.

Over 40 students subscribed to the Youth Concert Series at Symphony Hall.

The production of Camelot by the students at South High School in December was certainly noteworthy. Several members of the music faculty volunteered their assistance and helped to make this enormous undertaking a great success.

A large number of students qualified by individual competitive audition for one or more of the very selective area-wide festivals and concerts. These events and the number of students participating were the Southeast District Concert in Attleboro – 15, the All-State Concert in Waltham – 4, the New England Solo & Ensemble Festival in Boston – 28, and the New England Concert Festival in Falmouth – 5.

To make music is to create.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION – John Fisher, Director of Physical Education and Athletics

In the past few years, the general public has come to realize that physical education is an essential part of a child's total development – that his motor coordination is closely linked to his academic achievement and confidence in himself. Although this has been a big boost for physical educators, it also presents problems. In their zeal to have the best possible education for their children, parents are demanding more and more activities, both during the school day and also after school. Whenever possible, the Weymouth Public Schools have endeavored to keep pace with this increased demand.

When the two new elementary schools open next fall, another full time physical education teacher will be needed for the elementary grades. This will make it possible to strengthen the program for the Special Education classes also. For the past few years some of these children have been integrated into regular physical education classes, but this practice needs to be refined. These children, with their special problems, admittedly need activities designed for their own specific needs.

The added teacher will also relieve the junior high situation to some extent. More time could be allocated to the junior high program, making classes smaller and scheduling of the program somewhat easier.

The elementary interschool sports program for fifth and sixth grade boys consists of three activities; namely, flag touch football, basketball, and baseball. This program is one of total participation and has high attendance. It is played in divisions with playoff games to determine the town champion and a final all-sports champion.

The girls' program is a winter activity but could be extended to the spring for intramural activity. Almost without exception, both indoor and outdoor facilities are excellent at the elementary level. The only drawback is the problem of transportation. However, a plan to correct this situation is under study.

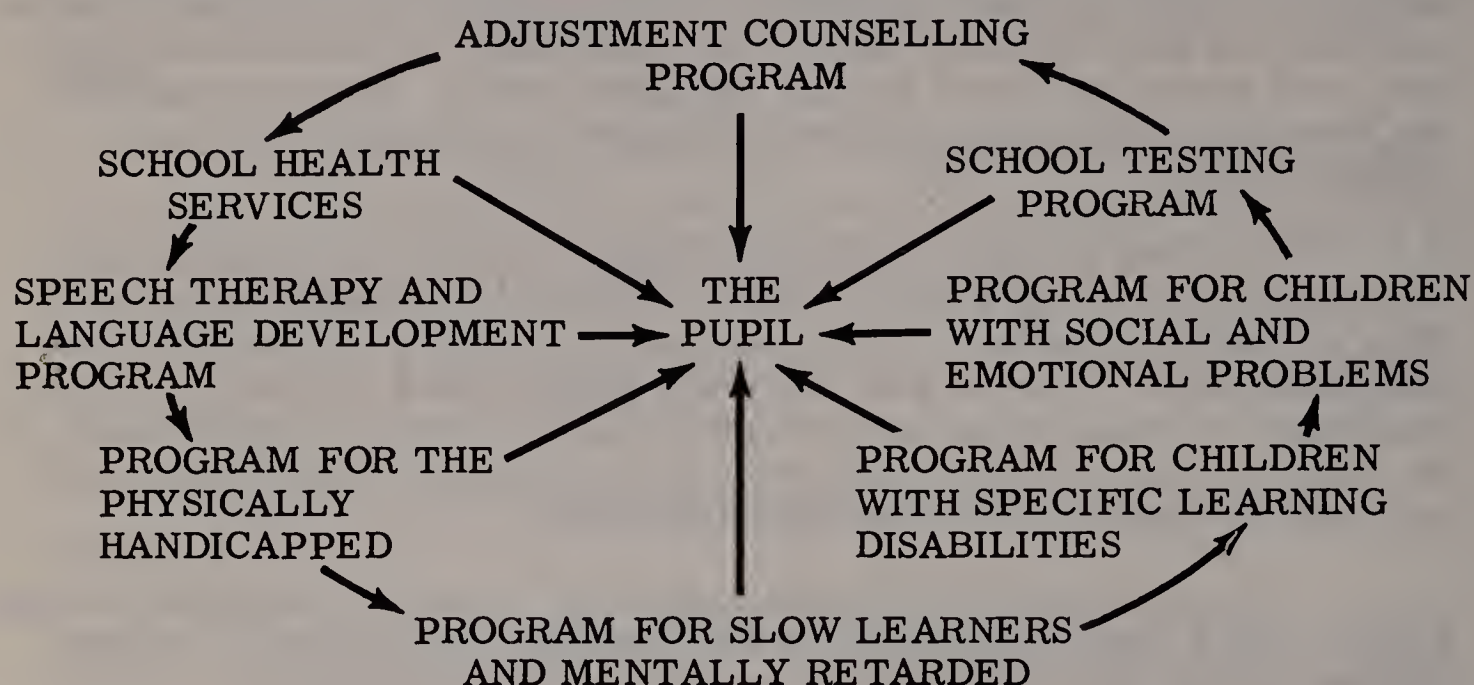

At present there are five junior high school interscholastic boys' sports at all four schools; namely, football, basketball, baseball, hockey, and track. At Bicknell this is accomplished with one gym, one field. The junior high school athletic program has expanded from one sport to five sports. There have been requests from North Weymouth residents to increase the number of boys' sports in junior high school to include soccer and girls' sports to include intramurals. These requests are under study.

Since 1954 the high school athletic program has been expanded from four sports to eleven. The junior high school program has been expanded from one sport to five: football, baseball, basketball, hockey, and track. Where previously there were no girls' interscholastic sports, we now have girls' gymnastics and girls' tennis. The girls' gymnastic team won the State championship in 1969 and 1970.

We have this season moved into two freshmen hockey teams in Suburban League competition. The same thirteen sports are planned at South High as at North High. It is possible to add tennis at the junior high school level where tennis courts are available, at Central and Bicknell Junior High Schools.

Expansion in interscholastic boys' and girls' sports or in intramural activity requires an intensive study of the available facilities, possible competition, coaching, and the benefits to be derived from each of the expanded activities.

SUPPLEMENTARY PUPIL SERVICES – Lawrence G. Lambros, Director

A multi-disciplined team approach was initiated in the Weymouth Schools in 1970 for the purpose of coordinating the various supplementary pupil services offered to the children and teenagers attending public schools.

The following specialists have been organized under one director to carry out the team concept:

Adjustment Counsellors
School Nurses
School Psychometrist
Speech Therapists
Teachers of children with social and emotional problems
Teachers of the slow-learner and mentally retarded
Teachers of children with specific learning disabilities
Teachers of the physically handicapped
Consultants from the South Shore Mental Health Clinic
Consultant from the Massachusetts Department of Youth Services

The basis for this team approach to pupil needs is to establish teams of professionals who will diagnose and evaluate cases, discuss and prescribe remedial programs, serve as consultants to parents, teachers, and administrators, gain insight and perspective regarding the needs of the whole child, and establish the role each team member is to carry out in order to help the child.

The Supplementary Pupil Service Program, therefore, is professionally staffed, intra-disciplinary oriented, and most important of all, child centered. The following services are offered under this organization.

GROUP AND INDIVIDUAL TESTING

The school psychometrist and adjustment counsellors work together in evaluating children and interpreting diagnoses. They confer with parents, teachers, and administrators in order to help the home and the school understand and plan programs which will provide success for the child.

MENTAL ABILITY TESTING:

Group mental ability tests are administered in the elementary schools in grades 1, 3, and 5. The purpose of mental ability tests is to gain an insight into the child's potential for learning and to predict school success.

Individual mental ability tests are given to those children who seem to have questionable results on group tests and particularly those children who are having trouble in their school work. It is very important to identify the slow child as soon as possible in his school career so that appropriate services may be offered. It is also very important to identify the very bright child early in his school career so that his needs can be evaluated and planned for. Teachers most often seek individual appraisals of children whose difficulty in learning cannot seem to be understood through regular classroom and teacher-prepared diagnostic procedures. It is very important to understand that a school's testing program is always in support of a teacher's effort to understand and help a child.

Individualized testing is required by law when there is a questionable diagnosis of mental retardation, specific learning disability, or emotional disturbance. Pupils must be re-evaluated every two years after placement in a special class program.

ACHIEVEMENT TESTING PROGRAM:

Achievement tests in grades 3-6 are administered each year during the months of May and June. A study of each child's growth is made graphically and is based on the latest information regarding his potential for learning. It is this study – Capacity Achievement Analysis – that is most significant in determining the needs of the child and determining the needs for supplementary services. Each child has potential for learning. It is the task of the school to help each child reach this potential and work in the light of this potential. If the child is not achieving for one reason or another, supplementary services may be offered but only after the child has been carefully studied and members of the supplementary pupil services staff have determined their roles in helping the child within the school. Very often the parents must seek additional help from local agencies as well.

ADJUSTMENT COUNSELLING PROGRAM

Parents, teachers, administrators, and other specialists serve as sources for referrals concerning children and teenagers with school adjustment problems. Weymouth has four adjustment counsellors who work with children in grades 1-9. The adjustment counsellors work closely with consultants from the South Shore Mental Health Center and other local agencies in carrying out their role of preventative and supportive counselling.

The adjustment counsellors work with maladjusted and emotionally-involved children during their earliest school years to help them avoid serious underachievement and behavior disorders during later years. With this vital service being offered at a time when some solutions can be found to the problems of the maturing child, the community will pay less in juvenile courts, welfare and rehabilitation services later. This program reaches children in their developing years when we are in a position to have the greatest influence on their future development.

The adjustment counsellors' basic role is to work with children and their families so as to change negative attitudes and anti-social or non-contributory patterns of behavior which inhibit school success.

PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN WITH SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL PROBLEMS

In addition to the Adjustment Counselling Program, this year Weymouth has piloted a program which treats school age children with social and emotional problems. Within the framework of this new program – mandated by law – each child is treated as normally as possible as often as possible throughout each day. He is placed in a regular class of children his own age and encouraged to participate in the on-going activities of that class. In time of crisis, emotional flair-up or phobic behavior, he is supported by the specialist for children with social and emotional problems. Therefore, he may spend part of his school day in a resource room with the specialist whose major role is to provide therapy on a crisis basis and on a regular daily basis as well. Very often the child is serviced by other members of the multi-disciplined team also. The specialists and the regular classroom teacher work closely together with the principal to organize programs for disturbed children so that they may remain in school and not have to be placed in a residential setting or hospital. This program is being carried out at the Nevin School and services nine disturbed children at the present time.

There is a growing recognition that our society is producing more maladjusted and disturbed children than ever anticipated. The child with social and emotional problems is indeed a severely handicapped child, and his loss to society has many, many consequences.

SCHOOL HEALTH SERVICES

School health services are designed to assist in protecting or improving student health and securing vital information necessary to assist other members of the multi-disciplined team adapt programs especially to the physical need of the pupil. The school nurse appraises the health status of each child, counsels parents and pupils in health matters, identifies handicapped children, encourages the correction of remediable defects, helps the local Board of Health prevent and/or control communicable diseases, and provides emergency care for sick and/or injured pupils in public school buildings.

Physical examinations are given in grades 1, 4, 7, 10 and previous to the participation in competitive sports. A specially trained nurse tests the vision and hearing of school age children. School nurses supervise and assist at immunization clinics at such times as recommended by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and the Weymouth Health Department.

The school nurse is a vital part of the multi-disciplined approach to services. Their knowledge of child growth and development is necessary to the team's understanding of the whole child.

SPEECH THERAPY AND LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

There are five speech and hearing therapists in the Weymouth Schools. Therapists work closely with other team members in diagnosing and evaluating the educational needs of children who demonstrate developmental delay and/or specific language handicaps. Each first grade pupil is evaluated for speech and hearing deficits prior to entrance in the fall. Children in grades 1 - 9 are evaluated throughout the year on a referral basis.

Speech therapists work with 300 children on an individual or small group basis and provide remedial work in articulation and delayed speech. They also work with children who have cleft palate, who stutter, and who may need auditory training or lip reading exercises.

SPECIAL CLASS PROGRAM FOR SLOW-LEARNER AND MENTALLY RETARDED

Special education services to meet the needs of exceptional children and teenagers in the Weymouth Schools have expanded from six to fourteen classes in the last four years. Administrators, teachers, specialists, volunteer aides, civic groups, parents, and students have joined in a team effort to upgrade the educational program of over 170 slow-learners and mentally retarded children who participate in an integrated special class program.

Two years ago, in an effort to meet the educational needs of a number of multiple-handicapped children who were not benefitting from the integrated educable program, an entirely new concept in special education was initiated with the establishment of two transitional classes. This program has proven very successful in providing realistic training for the multiple-handicapped child.

The Weymouth Satellite Rehabilitation Workshop – the first school program of its kind in the state of Massachusetts – received its third annual license to train and rehabilitate severely handicapped teenagers. Similar programs have been created in other communities by educators who have visited the Weymouth "shop" and who have used the Weymouth program to establish guidelines for organization and instruction. This program is carried in conjunction with the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission, and the South Shore Association for Retarded Children.

We believe that classrooms for the slow-learner and/or retarded child should be located in regular school buildings. Exceptional children should be allowed and encouraged to participate in as many regular school activities as possible, especially when success is probable. There are six classes for exceptional children of elementary school age, three classes at the junior high school level, and one class for teenagers who participate in a work-study program at the high school. There are also four classes for the severely handicapped children in the Weymouth Schools.

In a cooperative program with the South Shore Mental Health Center, exceptional children of pre-school age in Weymouth attend local clinical nurseries for the retarded, cerebral palsied, emotionally disturbed, and multiple-handicapped.

Weymouth participates in a regional Day Care Program for sub-trainable and custodial children and a regional program for autistic children as well.

The Special Education Department was awarded a third federal grant to continue the South Shore Instructional Materials and Resource Center at the Fogg Library in South Weymouth. The "center" provides materials for use with handicapped children by teachers, parents, and college students of eight South Shore communities.

"Operation H.E.L.P.," a volunteer program to help encourage learning potential, demonstrated for the third year how the school and the community can join in a cooperative venture to help the children learn.

PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIFIC LEARNING DISABILITIES

Learning is one of the most complex processes that the human being experiences. To many children, learning is a very frustrating and difficult experience. The public school is becoming more and more aware of the close relationship between emotional stability, physical and neurological adequacy, physiological readiness and intellectual growth. There are a number of pupils in our schools who demonstrate average or above average intelligence but who do not learn at a reasonable rate and who are particularly unsuccessful in the language areas of reading, writing, and spelling. These children are not underachievers because of a lack of general intelligence but because of a specific physical, neurological, or emotional disability.

It is very important to identify these potential failures as early as possible so as to provide them with the necessary developmental programs and therapy needed for prevention and/or remediation. These children require the cooperative efforts of the school, each teacher, the family, and often a number of supplementary pupil services staff personnel. Children are very seldom singularly handicapped. Children are most often multiple-handicapped, and this requires a successful team approach on a multi-disciplined basis.

Four tutors work with close to 160 children diagnosed as having specific learning disabilities commonly referred to as "Dyslexia." Twenty-two of the most severe cases in the elementary schools are being serviced at a Learning Disabilities Center at the Seach School in an effort to provide a concentration of services. These pupils receive up to eight hours per week of tutorial help and participate in the regular school program as well.

It is very important to recognize that the public schools are beginning to respond not only to how fast or how slowly children learn, but, more significantly, how children learn and how children fail.

HOME INSTRUCTION OF THE PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

Two home instructors service elementary children and teenagers who are unable to attend school and regular classes for one reason or another during the school year. Over 70 pupils were certified as physically handicapped during the past school year and receive home instruction. The instructors work closely with building principals and the classroom teacher to assure that the pupil "keeps up" with his class. The home instructor and the school nurse work closely together to determine the length of the time of confinement.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT – Virginia Nye, Director

The opening of Weymouth South High School, the inauguration of the new elective course of studies, and the sophomores' joining the juniors and seniors at the two high schools have made this past year busy and exciting.

Through counseling, the department has endeavored to help each young person to understand himself and then to help him make his own decisions wisely and honestly. Each student's personal, educational or vocational concerns have received close attention by the guidance counselors.

As usual, group tests were given in grades 8, 9, and 10, and individual tests when it was deemed wise. The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Achievement Tests, and the Listening Comprehension Tests of the College Board have been administered, as well as the National Merit Test to students who wished to take them or who needed them for acceptance to a school of higher learning. In connection with testing, Weymouth has again been honored by being chosen as a voting member for a three year period at the meetings of the College Board.

Each year the guidance department does a follow-up study of the most recent graduating class. In December, a letter is sent to every member of the class asking specific questions such as "What school are you attending? Are you employed? If so, where? Who obtained your job for you? Relative, friend? or Are you in Military Service?" Among other things, we ask graduates to evaluate their experiences in high school, both good and bad. This information is used to redirect our efforts in the guidance department or suggest curriculum changes.

A work study program is being sponsored by the department this year. Mr. Gunville and Mr. Noonan are the supervisors and counselors for the program at South High and North High respectively. A limited number of carefully-selected students were admitted to the program which is a mixture of academic courses and work-experience.

Mr. West, the Assistant Director of Guidance, now represents the Weymouth Public Schools in matters pertaining to the Juvenile Court of East Norfolk County.

Each year representatives from many schools and colleges visit us and provide students with an opportunity to obtain first-hand information about the schools and colleges of his choice.

The educational-vocational materials at North High have been duplicated at South High so that interested students at both schools may borrow them. This dispersement of information begins as early as the seventh grade. The junior high counseling offices have excellent files of college and career information to start the student on the learning process that will eventually lead to his making a wise decision about the future.

Two profiles, representing Weymouth North as one, and Weymouth South as the other, were written and have been distributed to all schools and colleges to which Weymouth students apply.

These include pertinent information such as location, type of community, facts about the high school, curriculum offered, statistics concerning our graduates, how rank in class is computed, and significant features pertaining to the courses offered.

The counselors have spent many hours with administrators, teachers, representatives of schools, colleges and industry, and with members of the clergy, medical doctors, mental health personnel, and social workers in order to help students become better adjusted to school and community living.

AUDIO-VISUAL INSTRUCTION – Ernest B. Remondini, Director

The role which instructional materials play in the teaching day becomes more important with each passing year. Because the areas covered in instruction have expanded considerably and because the level of sophistication necessary for teaching in the Seventies has risen sharply, teachers are using more and more audio-visual equipment and materials.

Both an increased teaching staff and the increased teacher awareness of the inherent values of A-V instruction to facilitate the learning process have caused a large growth in the number of requests for audio-visual assistance received.

The primary function of the IMC is to provide the tools, materials, and services with which the teaching staff may achieve an effective communication with their students. Early in September an operational priority policy was published for all schools to insure that the IMC services would be provided equitably on a town-wide basis.

The following report of IMC activities includes some of the steps taken to keep pace with the increased demands placed upon the department:

1. New Catalogs: Distribution of revised instructional materials catalogs has created an increase in materials requests. Existing catalogs, however, will be up-dated as soon as time permits to keep pace with the increased scope of A-V materials.
2. Instructional Materials Library: Much time is being spent in inspection of films and filmstrips. Proper inspection by student assistants insures that outgoing films are in good condition. A replacement program has been initiated for those films and filmstrips which had received heavy booking in the past but were either in poor condition or obsolete. Also, several new acquisitions were made to provide an alternate title for a film or filmstrip which was booked heavily.

Some decentralization has taken place with materials that were of value only to a particular department. In these cases, where no other department called for the material, such materials have been placed on long-term loan for the particular department's use.

3. Teacher In-Service Training: Measures are being taken to insure that all members of the staff attend a training program in the use of instructional materials until all are skilled in using this equipment as part of their regular teaching.

A program of standardization of 16mm sound projectors is under way at North High. Taking each department in turn, new projectors are being issued after a two hour training session for all staff members within a department. Now, instead of three different types of projectors within a department, there will be one. Eventually, when the program is completed, instead of five styles of projectors within the building, there will be one. This will eliminate the amount of time required for teacher and student training. In addition, teachers will never be confronted with an unfamiliar machine when moving within the building.

4. Student Training: A program of student training was initiated at South High to train students in the proper use of the new A-V equipment. At North High, the T.V. Club members are trained to operate the T.V. studio equipment while making T.V. programs. Camera Clubs are run at both high schools to provide an opportunity for pupils to learn film making and processing techniques.
5. 21 Inch Classroom: Educational television, via the "21 Inch Classroom," WGBH-TV, Channel 2, entered its 13th year in Weymouth. Programs are designed for all levels of instruction and are used by classroom teachers to reinforce many basic educational concepts.
6. Evaluation Program: An extensive media evaluation program has been implemented. A large number of films, filmstrips, records, kits, etc., are being distributed throughout the system for classroom evaluation. This method not only provides teachers with supplementary materials but gives them an opportunity to test pupil reaction prior to making recommendations concerning possible purchase.

When a preview circuit is completed, the evaluation forms are analyzed to determine suitability for the A-V library. It is hoped that soon an advisory committee to both preview and analyze evaluations can be established to determine what materials the IMC might call for to preview.

7. School Visitation: Visits are made to schools at a time when teachers are available, such as recess time in elementary schools and lunch time in the secondary schools. This informal meeting with staff is a way of establishing a rapport with teachers in an effort to determine ways in which IMC might better meet their needs.

These meetings have been valuable in determining in what direction IMC should move to improve efficiency of operation and quality of service.

8. IMC Office Procedures: Many changes have been initiated at the IMC with efficiency of operation being the main goal. Changes in office arrangement, as well as office procedure, have been effected in an attempt to keep up with the ever-increasing demand for IMC services. A "systems approach" has been applied to most facets of IMC operations to reduce motion loss as much as possible.

HEALTH EDUCATION – Alwyn F. Marston, Coordinator of Health Education

The Department of Health Education provided programs against abuses of drugs, alcohol, and tobacco at several levels of sophistication in Weymouth during the past year. An adult evening course; an in-service workshop for teachers; lectures to civic organizations, fraternal and private clubs, and many individual groups; plus guest appearances in schools and churches have furnished information on usage and effects to more than 5,000 townspeople. The Health Education Coordinator visited fifteen elementary schools and presented special programs on the harmful abuse of drugs, alcohol, and tobacco to more than 2,700 youngsters in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. In cooperation with Karen Broberg, newly-appointed teacher of Health Education, the Department has offered and is currently offering open discussions and training to junior and senior high school students who then take the message against drug and alcoholic misuse into elementary classes. Within the Town, meaningful information has been given to the following groups:

- A. Schools: PTA's -3, Special meetings -3, Elementary classrooms -90, and junior and senior high groups -6 (involving more than 200 students on a weekly basis).
- B. Fraternal Organizations, Civic Clubs, Service Groups: Boy Scouts (3 different troops), Girl Scouts (1 troop), Idlewell Association, Jaycees, Kiwanis, Pond Plain Association, P.M. Club, Red Cross, and Women's Republican League.
- C. Churches -9

On a town-wide basis, the Coordinator worked with concerned clergy to establish "WHY" (Weymouth Home and Youth), a corporate body dedicated to help in solving social living problems facing the Town today. Also, the Coordinator participated in the "Radio School Voice of Weymouth" broadcast by Radio Station WJDA of Quincy as part of its Community Spotlight series. Further, the Health Education Department has received authority to present to the Weymouth public a special play of unusual and beneficial significance. This offering will act as a pilot project to remind both adults and students of Weymouth's continuing leadership in anti-drug education.

Outside the Town, the Coordinator has been working to bring about inter-community cooperative efforts. Many communities in the New England area have called upon him to act as a resource person and consultant as they established health education programs of their own. Weymouth's program has been used as a model for many towns. The coordinator was one of four educators who created and ran a three-day, thirty-three hour drug abuse seminar at Stonehill College in North Easton. This conference drew people from thirty-four communities. This endeavor is serving as a basis for future creation of a South-Eastern Massachusetts corporation which will devote its energies to a project for combatting the drug problem.

The Coordinator of Health Education was a guest speaker at the following colleges as part of a cooperative public relations program: Bridge-water State College, Curry College, Eastern Nazarene College, and Fisher Junior College. The emphasis at these engagements was directed to the teaching of drug abuse information at the elementary school level.

In summary, the members of the department of Health Education have offered the Town of Weymouth a variety of programs to alert the citizens to the severity of social problems with ancillary effects involving lack of responsibility and drug "cop-outs" by many youth. The Coordinator has helped several youth who requested assistance to "break the drug habit". Further, the Department has accomplished the following: 105 Speaking Engagements, 5 Conferences, 5 Adult Evening Courses, and 2 Teacher Workshops.

Many people now feel that education is a major key to solving drug abuse. Weymouth continues to be a leader in this educational field and will provide cooperative assistance to other towns who are beginning programs against drug abuse.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Driver Education is available to students in the three high schools. They are required to complete thirty hours of classroom work and twelve hours of on-the-road training: six hours behind-the-wheel and six hours observation. Emphasis is placed on developing proper attitudes, safety procedures and driving skills. One of the benefits of this training is a substantial reduction in insurance rates, especially for boys. Statistics are as follows:

North High School

Completed classroom work	380
Completed on-road training	350

WEYMOUTH PUBLIC SCHOOL LIBRARIES – Rita M. Diment, Coordinator of School Library Services

Rita M. Diment, Coordinator of School Library Services (Foreground), confers with Pamela M. Bent, Assistant Librarian at North High.

For the public school libraries, the opening of a well-stocked, modern library at the new South High School was the major event of 1970. All six secondary school libraries have continued their steady growth of library facilities and materials for students. Considerable use of the several elementary school libraries has also been possible by placing their operation in the hands of qualified volunteers.

At North High School, a shortage of shelf space has been alleviated by the installation of two large, free-standing bookcase units in the library proper and the lining of two walls in each of two rooms with built-in shelving. This work was performed by school carpenters. One of these rooms has now become a research area for reference books, and the other, a professional library for teachers' use in addition to serving as the librarian's office. The installation of a photo-copier has made it possible to provide copies of magazine articles or other materials for research and has also cut down on the loss or mutilation of materials. In addition, a new card catalog unit and a filing cabinet for microfilm storage – equipment urgently needed by the library – are currently on order and are scheduled for delivery early in 1971. Three metal book trucks have been delivered and are in use.

In the all-important work of book selection, the librarians expended much time and effort in attempting to meet the challenge of a multitude of new course offerings introduced into the curriculum in September. Purchases have focused on books in the areas of the humanities, sociology, political science, art history, music appreciation, nutrition, and child care. When maps and records were available to supplement information in given texts, these, too, were purchased. Books in the area of political science were selected in honor of Robert Paone, a 1964 graduate of Weymouth High School who was killed in Viet-Nam. The funds were provided as a gift of the class of 1964 in memory of their classmate.

In connection with the establishment of the new library at Weymouth South High School, much time has been spent in preparing lists of reference books which would duplicate the collection already built up over the years at North High School. Also, at the beginning of the school year, uniform library policies were established to be observed at both high schools particularly in regard to circulation, the elimination of fines for overdue books, and inter-library loans.

The South High School Library opened in September with over 10,000 books on the shelves. Another 5,000 have been ordered. To accomplish this September's opening, a completely processed collection was purchased from University Microfilm. The Library Coordinator for the Weymouth School System, the Librarian and Assistant Librarian from Weymouth South High School, the Assistant Librarian from Weymouth North High School, and five high school students worked the month of August unpacking cartons, putting books on shelves, and establishing an inventory.

The next major task was the card catalog. Over 70,000 catalog cards which came with the books had to be hand sorted and filed in alphabetical order. This has taken 30 student library aides, two librarians and three months to accomplish.

A microfilm collection of back issues of magazines has been ordered along with government documents which will begin the vertical file. Special classes in library skills are also currently being given to students so that they will be aware of the many facilities for educational research that are open to them at Weymouth South High School.

Volunteer assistants continue to be of great service in the secondary school libraries. These boys and girls do a great many of the routine operations so important to a well-run library. In some schools, a Library Club has been organized, and members enjoy both social and educational events.

All of the Federal Funds received for school libraries, distributed under the provisions of Public Law 89-10, Title II, were expended for books for elementary school libraries. A total of $9,400 was used to purchase additional volumes for the Humphrey, Nevin, McCulloch, Washington, and Jefferson School libraries.

EVENING SCHOOL

The Adult Education Program had another successful year in 1970. The descriptive booklet about the various courses was revised and helped to attract more registrations than ever before. Classes were again held at North High School and the four junior high schools.

Responsibility for the classes was again divided between two principals. Mr. Vincent J. DiSessa continued in charge of commercial, academic, personal development, and free classes. Mr. Richard F. Harding took charge for the first time of the evening practical arts classes and evening trade extension and apprentice classes.

New classes this year were introductory data processing, conversational French, and copper tooling. There was increased enrollment over recent years in furniture refinishing, knitting, beginning typewriting, and upholstery. Once more, clothing classes outnumbered all others, with seven beginning classes, four advanced classes, and two more in dressmaking and tailoring. There were 72 classes in all for the 1452 registrants.

A change from previous years was that the entire exhibit of items created or improved by evening practical arts classes and others was held at the North High School gymnasium. The style show by the clothing classes was colorful and impressive. Can anyone forget the three postponements of the exhibit because of snow storms?

Afternoon clothing classes for senior citizens were arranged at Central Junior High and at South Junior High. The classes were well attended both in the spring and in the fall.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The twelfth session of the Weymouth Summer School was in operation for six weeks, from June 29 to August 7, 1970. All classes but one were held at North High School; one sewing class met at East Junior High School.

Summer school publicity took several forms: the summer school brochure, distributed to schools and libraries; flyers sent home through students in grades 3-9; articles in newspapers; and spot radio announcements.

The 601 students registered for a total of 710 courses. There were 50 course offerings scheduled in 70 classes taught by 31 teachers. About 59% of the students were enrolled to make up a deficiency or to review subject matter; 40% took enrichment courses; and 1% previewed future courses.

Additions to the curriculum included exploratory electronics for grade 9 boys; elementary art for grades 3, 4, and 5; Spanish II; physical science; and a second teacher for the perceptually handicapped.

Field trips were made by four classes: to the Museum of Fine Arts, to the New England Aquarium, to beaches to look for driftwood, and to a stage play.

Open House on Thursday, August 6, featured displays by classes in art, clothing, personal typing, perceptual training, theater workshop, and physical science.

FEDERAL PROJECT ASSET AND PREP – Roger J. P. Dow,
Director of Title I, ESEA

The Weymouth Public Schools continued to receive money from the federal government under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. Title I is but one of eight titles of a legislative act passed by Congress to speed educational innovation to meet the special educational needs of special groups in the public schools. At first, Title I concentrated its attention only on the needs of children from low income families. Since 1965, however, its interpretation has been broadened to include other educationally deprived children.

In order to qualify for federal money under Title I, a school district must establish in its application that there are schools within the community with concentrations of children from low income families. The application must also explain how these children are educationally handicapped and describe what the schools intend to do to help these children overcome their educational disadvantages. Once the program has been approved by the State Department of Education, other children in the target schools who have the same handicap may be included.

The Weymouth Public Schools received full-funding approval for two Title I projects – ASSET AND PREP. ASSET utilizes speech therapists and reading teachers to help educationally deprived children to "catch up" with their classmates. PREP is a special pre-school readiness program designed to develop the basic skills which are necessary for success in first grade work. These basic skills include muscle control, listening and visual skills, the ability to follow directions, to work with others, and to concentrate on subject matter for reasonable lengths of time.

For the last school year of 1969-1970, the Weymouth Public Schools received $91,959.00 for ASSET and Winter PREP and an additional grant of $25,725.00 for Summer PREP. The total sum of $117,684.00 represents an increase of $12,163.64 over last year's Title I grant.

A total of 677 children were involved in Title I programs this past year. Of this number, 228 received help in reading, 113 were provided with speech therapy, 76 were enrolled in Winter PREP, and 260 were included in Summer PREP.

The State Department of Education suggested last year that all public schools receiving federal money under Title I should hire an outside evaluator to assess the success of its programs. Money was provided in Title I funds for this evaluation. The Weymouth Public Schools selected Dr. John D. Coughlan, Lecturer in Education at Curry College and former Director of the Massachusetts Division of Youth Services Board. His evaluation, which has since been forwarded to the State Department of Education, rated the Weymouth Title I program as excellent. His recommendation that more equipment and supplies be provided for the Title I teachers resulted in Weymouth's applying for and receiving additional federal money for these areas.

The Massachusetts Department of Education has also requested that school districts receiving Title I monies concentrate most of their expenditures in the early grades. Research indicates that remedial work for the educationally handicapped is most successful if given at the earliest possible age. Weymouth's ASSET and PREP programs were originally written to concentrate their teaching efforts at the elementary grade level, so no change was necessary in this area.

All aspects of Project ASSET and PREP have demonstrated that much can be done to help children succeed in school. The key to the projects' success is that individualized instruction and imaginative programs do help children with educational handicaps. Their improved attitude and school performance are the proof.

SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE

This committee held business meetings on a monthly basis during the 1970 calendar year along with numerous other coordination meetings held at the job site. These meetings contributed to the successful completion of the new South High School.

The general site work, which included roads, parking areas, lawns, and shrubs together with the finished surface on the running track, was completed during the summer. The athletic fields, which were graded and seeded in the summer of 1969, were finished and ready to receive the fall athletic activities.

The building was substantially completed and ready for occupancy on schedule for the opening of school in September. The school staff worked a good portion of the summer equipping the various departments. This work allowed the transitional occupancy period to be accomplished with comparative ease.

The Weymouth South High School was formally dedicated on November 15, 1970. The various speakers at the ceremony cited the exceptional cooperation that existed between the Architect, the Contractor, and the Town of Weymouth as the most important factor contributing to the tremendous plaudits received by this most functional facility.

The total project costs are only approximate because all of the contracts and costs have not been completely finalized at this time. However, these costs reflect substantial savings within the approximate amount all as itemized below:

Site Development	$ 427,000.00
General Contract	4,950,000.00
Furniture, Equipment, Library Books	515,000.00
Architects', Engineers', and
Inspectors' fees	343,000.00
Other Costs	25,000.00
Anticipated Return to the Town	100,000.00

Total Appropriation - $6,360,000.00

By meeting the requirements of the School Building Assistance Bureau, the Town of Weymouth will be reimbursed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for 40 per cent of the total construction costs over a twenty-year period (Term of the Bond).

Under Public Law 85-864 (National Defense Education Act), the Town of Weymouth was reimbursed an additional $40,000.00 by the federal government for projects, the cost of which is included in the equipment figure above.

This committee will continue to function through the guarantee period of September 1971.

BUILDING COMMITTEE FOR AN ADDITION TO THE
WILLIAM SEACH SCHOOL

Since the formation of the Committee, 53 meetings have been held.

A certificate of substantial completion was awarded to the contractor in September, and with all necessary inspections and permits, the building was opened for use September 9, 1970, as scheduled.

A presentation ceremony and open house was held November 22, 1970. A chorus and the school orchestra played musical selections. Other students provided readings and led the flag salute. Speakers were Mr. Hickey, Chairman of the Building Committee; Dr. Farrin, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. Hackett, Principal of the School; Mr. Hoffman, Chairman of the School Committee; and Mr. Buchan, former PTA President, who presented three books to start a "Memorial Shelf" in the library. The books were in memory of Eric Jacobsen, former custodian of the school, and Ronald Supernor and Joseph Kyller, former pupils at the school. A portrait of William Seach, to be hung in the lobby of the building, was unveiled by members of Mr. Seach's family.

Remaining work for the Committee includes a final inspection of the landscaping in the spring; adjustments to plumbing, heating, and electrical systems; additional equipment expenditures; and the completion of the requirements of the School Building Assistance Bureau.

The Committee expresses its appreciation to Mr. John Hamre, a citizen of the town, who served well and faithfully as Clerk of the Works for this project from the breaking of ground until June of this year when he was released to serve in a similar capacity for the elementary school in North Weymouth.

The Committee also recognizes the many services of many of the town departments in advising them and assisting them in the completion of the addition.

THE UNION STREET SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE

The Union Street School Building Committee held 14 meetings in 1970 and made considerable progress toward the completion of its assigned task. Many sub-bids and six general bids were opened in February. After some discussion, the Annual Town Meeting in March voted the Committee the sum of $1,695,000 under a 20-year bond issue to be added to the $78,000 voted in March, 1969, to build and equip the Union Street School.

The budget for the school follows:

General Contract (including site work)	$1,482,000
Architect	106,000
Equipment, furniture, etc.	85,000
Clerk of the Works	20,000
Printing, advertising, etc.	5,000
Tennis courts	25,000
Contingency	50,000
Total Appropriation	$1,773,000

A contract was signed with Wexler Construction Company, Incorporated, of Newton Highlands, the general contractor, on April 6, and work began a day or two later. Approval of the project had previously been received from the State Board of Education, the Emergency Finance Board, and the School Building Assistance Bureau. State aid will amount to 40% of the total cost, or $709,200.

The foundation was completed, the structural steel erected, the external brick walls laid, the roof boarded in and weatherproofed, and the building entirely closed in before the end of the year. The building and site are now 60% complete, and inside work will continue through the winter.

The Committee feels fortunate in having a fine working relationship with and among the architect (Kenneth F. Parry and Associates, Inc.), the general contractor (Wexler Construction Company, Inc.), various town and state officials, and the school administration. As a result, it is anticipated that the school will be ready for occupancy in September, 1971, on schedule.

WESSAGUSSET ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE

As the result of Town Meeting action on Monday, June 15, 1970, the sum of $1,588,167 was appropriated for the purposes of constructing, originally equipping and furnishing a new elementary school in North Weymouth. This sum, combined with $78,000 planning money authorized on May 12, 1969, was accompanied by an authorization to take all necessary action to carry out this project.

As a result of these actions, the Building Committee on July 6, 1970, entered into a contract with Leonard Rugo, Inc. of Wellesley, Massachusetts, the low bidder on the project, for a contract price of $1,377,167. At the same time, the Committee adopted a budget as follows:

General Contract	$1,377,167
Architect's Fee	104,000
Original Equipment	85,000
Borings	5,000
Printing	5,000
Testing	3,000
Clerk of Works	15,000
Committee Expense	5,000
Contingency	67,000
TOTAL	$1,666,167

By the end of the year, the project was approximately one-third completed with much of the site work, foundation, and erection of laminated beams completed.

The Committee met formally eighteen times during the course of the year; several informal inspection trips, conferences with State and local officials, and meetings with contractor and architect were also held.

The Committee has taken official notice in its minutes of the unusually fine and helpful cooperation extended by the School Committee, the school administration, the Department of Public Works, the Chief of Police, the Chief of the Fire Department, the Inspector of the Department of Public Safety and many other local and state officials.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE TUFTS LIBRARY TRUSTEES

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Tufts Library held on April 23, 1970, it was unanimously voted to oppose the granting of a variance for the apartment complex proposed to be erected at the corner of Washington and Broad Streets, on the property now owned by the Baptist Church. In August, when the Zoning Board of Appeals did grant permission for the building, the Board of Trustees of Tufts Library voted to appeal this decision in the courts. The Board of Selectmen voted to allot funds to the Trustees to engage legal counsel and initiate court action. An appeal was filed in Norfolk Superior Court, where it is still pending.

Meanwhile the Building Committee of the Baptist Church proposed an alternative plan for the use of the land whereby there would be stores instead of an apartment complex. After meeting with the Baptist Church committee the Trustees of Tufts Library voted as follows: "It was voted by the Board to instruct counsel that we have no objection to the alternative plan for the Baptist Church property to be used for stores; furthermore, that we have not changed our position in regard to the original use of the property for apartments."

The Trustees are anxious to see a solution of the unsatisfactory condition of the East Branch Library.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANKLIN N. PRATT
President, Tufts Library Trustees

REPORT OF THE TOWN LIBRARIAN

To the Board of Trustees of the Tufts Library:

Increased use of the library facilities by adults and a lessening use by children were definite trends in 1970. The growing collections of books in many elementary schools in Weymouth have brought books to children in their classrooms where formerly they acquired them through the public library. More adults are turning to the library for both serious study and recreational reading. The adult user of the library enjoys a wide variety of resources – a large collection of current periodicals, phonodiscs of both music and speech, paperbacks, films, filmstrips, information sources, including directories, out-of-town phone books, pamphlets, college catalogs, to name some. An inexpensive coin-operated copier, producing black on white, has proved very helpful to many patrons.

Although the overall circulation of children's books has declined, children are still benefiting from the libraries. Many school classes visited the Children's Room at the Main Library as groups for instruction, a total of 71 classes or 2,228 boys and girls. Many class visits were also made to the branch libraries. Station librarians report many enthusiastic readers among their clientele, for these children in five elementary schools not only have book collections, but guidance from trained personnel in using these books. Story hours for the lower grades at the Main Library and the North Branch continue in popularity. Six weekly sessions of pre-school story hours have been made possible by the efforts of many volunteers as well as the regular staff. This last September registration was held for all those four years old and over who were interested to come. This procedure helped create less crowding at specific times.

Young adult use of the library continues to gain, with emphasis on school related requests as well as sports and hobbies. This has been the year of the hockey book, as well as more serious books on the environment and pollution.

The library has sponsored a number of programs, including a summer film series. A variety of subjects were shown – the art films on Andrew Wyeth and Marc Chagall drew the greatest audience, with much interest in the evening of old time movies. Many organizations have used library films for their own programs, so that we had a total of 628 showings. The library obtains its films through four major sources – The Regional Library film collection, the Massachusetts Library Film Cooperative, the Canadian Travel Film Library and Association Films, who distribute free sponsored films.

The Tufts Library has worked with many community groups, providing films or other program material, booklists, book talks and space for exhibits. Included are the drug education program of the School Health Coordinator, the Racial Conference, the annual exhibit of handicrafts taught by the Playgrounds, Council for the Aging activities, Story hours for "Prep" groups in summer school, and the annual show of the Art Association.

The branch libraries continue to serve their neighborhoods, although the greater resources of the Main Library draw more people. Phonorecords and paperback book collections have been added at the branches. At the East Branch we still lack sufficient floor space for effective service. The trustees and the staff have considered several possible moves to larger quarters, this past year, but an adequate solution is still lacking.

The Teachers' Professional library, a combination of School Department books on education and those belonging to the Tufts Library, has seen increasing use this past year. In December we learned that a request for federal funding for more books, periodicals and equipment for this collection had been successful, with a grant of about $7,000.

Two gifts to the library should be mentioned. One is an extensive collection of shells gathered by the late Mrs. Oberlin Clark. The Art Association purchased for the library a number of hooks and rods to facilitate hanging pictures throughout the library. These should prove most helpful for future art exhibits.

Weymouth's membership in the Eastern Regional Library System has continued to be helpful in enhancing library service. Weymouth residents may now hold library cards at the sub-regional center, the Thomas Crane Public Library, and at the headquarters library, the Boston Public. In addition much material can be borrowed on inter-library loan to be picked up here at the local library. In service training courses for our library staff, sponsored by the Region, are proving helpful and should continue to expand.

Personnel changes are inevitable — this year we have lost three staff members through retirement who helped greatly in creating the quality of library service offered. Mrs. Arlene Cole, Assistant Children's Librarian will be remembered especially for her story hours and her colorful bulletin boards. Mrs. Sylvia Jacobson created many displays for the library as well as creating a friendly atmosphere at the charging desk. Mrs. Caroline Harris, our Reference Librarian, will be missed by those who depended on her acumen and energy in research.

The replacement of retiring personnel always brings into focus the need to keep our standards of recruiting high and the need for appropriate salary funds to support these standards. The largest part of the budget is spent on salaries; we should try to make positions in the library attractive to the best qualified people and to reward those who serve the library well. Last year's Town meeting action in down grading the pay of half-time trained library employees was not helpful and, hopefully, it will be changed.

I would like to express my appreciation to the many volunteers who have served the library this past year, to a faithful staff and a devoted Board of Trustees.

Respectfully submitted,

ELEANOR T. COONEY
Town Librarian

REPORT OF THE PARK COMMISSIONERS

January 15, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town Hall
East Weymouth, Mass.

Gentlemen:

We herewith submit our Annual Report for 1970, in which our budget, as adopted by the Commission, totaled $135,048.00. This is an increase of $6,832.00 over last year's budget, and reflects the Commission's concern for maintaining Weymouth's high standards of service to the children and adults of the Town.

Francis E. Slattery was elected to the Commission to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of David W. Kelley after ten years of service.

Our regular summer playground program was conducted at twenty-three supervised playgrounds from June 29 through August 21.

The playground staff included two supervisors; specialists in crafts, tennis and archery; specialists for the mentally retarded and physically handicapped; two drivers to operate carry-all vehicles and thirty-eight instructors.

The annual competitive examination for the employing of playground instructors was given to ninety-five applicants to fill sixteen vacancies. The examination was administered at the Central Junior High School on Saturday, March 28, 1970.

A three day training institute was conducted for all instructors and in-service training was obligatory on the few rainy days of the season.

A combined field day and awards night brought forth the Town Champions on August 19. The Champions were:

Boys' Baseball – Midget League:	Stella Tirrell
Boys' Baseball – Junior League:	O'Sullivan
Girls' Kickball – Central Jr.
Girls' Softball:	Weston

For the sixteenth consecutive year the Town was reimbursed 50% of the incurred expenses for the programs offered to the mentally retarded and physically handicapped children. Some forty-five handicapped children participated in the daily program which was supplemented by swimming lessons, bowling, nature walks and various special events.

After study and consultation the Commission inaugurated a similar recreation program for the retarded children of pre-school age. The program was deemed most successful by the State Department of Special Education.

Supervised facilities at the expanded Wessagusset Beach were made available during the summer from June 24 through September 7 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Lake Street Beach was closed for the summer due to the construction of the new dam as part of the flood control program.

Swimming and Life Saving classes were conducted for 4,550 students by fourteen competent American Red Cross Water Safety Instructors for children six years of age and over. Twenty-eight classes were taught throughout the season.

Thirteen of our beach staff attended the Red Cross Aquatic School in Hanson, Mass. from June 14 to June 24.

The annual Water Carnival was very successful, entertaining, well attended and concluded another outstanding season.

As annually, field permits were issued fairly to control the heavy use of the baseball and softball diamonds by the many leagues within the Town.

Our Senior Citizens Recreation Club, with over one thousand members, enjoyed another year of recreational activities. We wish to commend President, Edward Flynn and his capable committee members for the co-operation extended to us.

Our Great Esker Park marked its third successful year of full scale operation. The nature education program was designed to enhance the childrens' appreciation and understanding of nature and wildlife. The nature walks were well attended and as a result, were continued into the late fall.

We wish to commend the Park Division of the Department of Public Works, for their outstanding effort in maintaining our numerous facilities throughout the year.

The amount of vandalism in general was on the incline with excessive damage to our Lake Street Beach bathhouse, which had been secured for the season.

After numerous meetings the Commission is looking forward to the completion of the Metropolitan District Commission facility in Weymouth which will offer year round swimming and winter skating to supplement our over-all recreation program. We feel fortunate that we could offer a centrally located site for this facility, at no extra cost to the Town.

We remain ever grateful to the School Department for the continuation of their policy by which we are allotted use of school facilities for our recreation programs.

We wish to express our appreciation to the various committees and Town Officials for their continued support of our program.

It is the desire of our Commission to make every effort to provide a complete and varied program that will meet individual, as well as group needs, for all age groups, all seasons of the year.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Town of Weymouth
75 Middle Street
East Weymouth, Massachusetts 02189

Gentlemen:

The Conservation Commission submits its Annual Report for 1970 to complete a year we felt was very successful in accomplishing our objectives for implementing a profitable conservation program.

The Commission as always, was aware of the unlawful contamination of land and pond areas and worked with the Natural Resources Commission in this regard. We were actively engaged with the Boston Edison Company in preparing bird sanctuaries, nature trails and land beautification along the Edison properties in the Tower areas.

The Commission actively participated with the Water Pollution Control Study Commission in further determining the best methods to prevent oil spillage in town surrounding waters.

The Commission was successful in working with the Town of Hingham relative to the preservation of the Green Belt areas in Eska Park.

During the past summer months the Commission was active in assisting the interested citizens committee in project "Clean Up" in the Whitman pond area.

The Commission has been successful in organizing and activating the Friends of Conservation in the Town of Weymouth which will greatly assist the conservation program.

At the present time the Commission is engaged in investigating land acquisition necessary to further preserve and secure our wetlands and marshlands in the Town of Weymouth in the interest of conservation.

For the courtesy and cooperation extended during the past by the town board and officials to F. Gilbert Hills, a member of the Commission recently retired we sincerely express our appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

CURTIS H. BUTTERFIELD
Chairman
Weymouth Conservation Commission

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF ZONING APPEALS

January 15, 1971

Honorable Board of Selectmen
Weymouth Town Hall
75 Middle Street
Weymouth, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The number of cases heard by the Zoning Board of Appeals totals to 52, which again is somewhat less than the previous year. The new Zoning By-Law, which established new zoning residential districts, has more clearly defined rules and regulations of zoning than did our former Zoning By-Law. This accounts for the decrease in appeal cases and we believe that this trend may continue for several years.

Of the 52 cases heard, 27 were granted, 12 were denied, 11 were withdrawn, and 2 cases are presently held under advisement.

There were 463 notices sent prior to hearings and 448 sent after hearings for a total of 911, and fees in the amount of $1,820 were collected.

We wish to express our appreciation for the assistance given to us by various Town Departments which proves helpful in arriving at our decisions.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK D. RODICK, Chairman
FRANK S. LAGROTTERIA, Secretary
THOMAS F. LYNCH
Board of Zoning Appeals
